The Pacific Telephone Magazine, official organ of the Southern California Telephone Co., in the October-November issue, mentions the promotion of F. D. Tellwright, to the position of chief engineer of the Washington-Idaho area, effective November 1st. The announcement is of local interest, inasmuch as Mr. Tellwright was at one time located in Santa Ana. He began his career with the company in Los Angeles in 1924, steadily advancing and filling various positions with credit. He has a well rounded career with the company. Naturally his Santa Ana friends rejoice in his promotion.

A snug little check for $109,500, which is divided among the members of the California Lima Bean Growers Association, brought a shaft of financial sunlight to Orange county growers. It was the final payment for the 1937 crop. It will help Santa Claus in his holiday shopping. Should serve as a substantial boost to retail business.

Santa Ana man en route east sends card from Cheyenne with a sky-line note that "they are selling oranges here 216s 5c each." No wonder the grower is dissatisfied. I heard the same story from a Santa Ana man who was in Quincy, Ill., a few weeks ago. Price per orange 5c each.

I like those orchard heaters better when you do not have to use them. And there are many housewives who agree with me, besides the ranchers. No one wants to use them, no one wants them used, but they do serve a good purpose at a time when it seems that nothing else meets the situation. And what's a few lace curtains between oranges and the laundry.

Disturbed conditions world-wide make it difficult now to adjust business to any definite line. In the old days there was a dependence in treaties and obligations. Now little Finland is the one beacon whose light sheds the fidelity of integrity above all others. Mexico grabs oil and gets away with it, Italy absorbs Ethiopia, Germany absorbs Czechoslovakia, Japan absorbs China—or is trying to—France and England change their minds more often than the fennel, and the League of Nations just meets and adjourns. It's a great turmoil which makes business forecasts something more than the most astute statistician can solve.

Just a little message of congratulations to Sam Jernigan who has been appointed a member of Sheriff-elect Jesse Elliott's official family. He goes into a place he so ably directed for two terms, a service he can look back to with personal pride, and to which his constituents can now more fully appreciate.

Invited to a barbecue, few days after Thanksgiving. Wish they had waited a few weeks. Believe I would have been in much better condition.

You can't stop me from talking about oranges. The price advanced 24 cents a packed box last week, but all my valencias has been sold.

Oh, yes, it's next Thursday morning the Breakfast club meets, when ham and eggs are served, but no $30 per week. Guess the only fellows who made any money (Continued on Page 2, Col. 7)

Railmen May Be Drafted in Army By Premier

PARIS. (AP)—The Daladier government's campaign today opened gaps in labor lines drawn up for a 24-hour strike Wednesday.

Labor Minister Charles Pomaret announced he had received assurances that department stores, banks and insurance companies all would remain open despite the strike call issued by the General Confederation of Labor.

Independent unions, including the General Confederation of Christian workers, also proclaimed opposition to the strike, called to protest Premier Daladier's labor-finance policies.

The deadlock between the government and the principal unions persisted, however.

The government's determination to strike and the government's insistence that public services be maintained aroused widespread apprehension. Appeals were made to both sides to avoid any dangerous action.

Among the main unions are those of factory workers, miners and public service employees, including railway, subway and bus workers.

POWER NOT USED

Daladier has been given decree authority to mobilize railroad workers—in effect, to place them under army discipline—but he has not put his power into force.

Deputies of the Socialist union group joined war veterans in an appeal to both sides for peace. The Socialist union proposed to send a delegation to the premier asking a session of parliament Dec. 12 to rule on the decree laws and to Jean Jouhaux, head of the Confederation of Labor. To ask a (Continued on Page 2, Col. 6)

N. Y. JUDGE HAS HIS JOKE

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y. (AP)—Ira L. Hill, society photographer, was divorced today by Mrs. Doris Godwin Hill after witnesses testified they found him wearing "an old-fashioned night shirt" in the company of a young woman.

Hill, 53, did not contest the action. Mrs. Hill is 36. The name of the young woman was given in the complaint as Marion Blackley, a model.

Miss Jacqueline Godwin, sister of Mrs. Hill testified she and two investigators surprised him and the young woman in a bedroom of his summer lodge.

"There was woman's underwear all over the floor of the living room," Miss Godwin testified. "Was it a cold night," asked Supreme Court Justice Raymond E. Aldrich.

"It was a chilly night," replied Miss Godwin.

"Well," said the judge, "I just wondered how cold it would have to be to have a woman's underwear cover the room."

President Told of Germany

WARM SPRINGS, Ga. (AP)—President Roosevelt resumed his conference on European oppressed minorities today with the ambassadors to Germany and Italy. The group met at the "Little White House" on Pine mountain after the diplomats—Hugh R. Wilson and William Phillips, envoys respectively to Berlin and Rome—had refreshed themselves with a motor ride in the brisk morning air.

NO ANNOUNCEMENTS

They were called back to the mountain retreat after a four-hour conference last night. There were no official announcements following this meeting.

The conferences are expected to crystallize the developing American policy which thus far has embraced condemnation of persecutions of Jews, Catholics and Protestants in Europe, efforts to protect American citizens and property, and cooperation with other democracies to find foreign refugees for the mistreated.

Wilson and Phillips said they had a most enjoyable meeting with the President last night.

GUESTS OF PATIENT

Beyond that they refused to talk for publication as they left the "Little White House" in the frigid atmosphere to be overnight guests of Will Moore of New York, veteran infantile paralysis patient at the Warm Springs foundation.

Their first meeting with the chief executive was held in a pine-paneled combination dining and living room before a blazing fire of pine logs.

Before the conference, however, officials repeated that Mr. Roosevelt was not only concerned with economic and physical measures against Jews in Germany, but he was just as anxious over the fate of Catholic and protestant minorities there and in other countries.

HAVENS FOR ALL

It was generally believed, therefore, that this was made plain to the envoys to the totalitarian states, and that the conference also touched on the progress of efforts to find havens for minorities fleeing from oppressive tactics.

The President already has stated he will give six-month extensions for approximately 15,000 persons from Germany and former Austria in this country on visitors' permits as a measure of protection against possible mistreatment should they be forced to return to Europe by Dec. 31.

Pacific States

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—The proposed sale of sixteen million dollars worth of assets of the old Fidelity Savings and Loan association, taken over in 1931 by the Pacific States Savings and Loan Co., today was held up by a preliminary injunction issued by Superior Judge Emmet H. Wilson.

An auction sale of the assets had been set for this afternoon, but the injunction prevents any such sale until the trial of a suit brought by a number of Fidelity certificate holders who are objecting to the administration of the old company by Pacific States officials.

Richfield Brings
In 8th Kern Well

BAKERSFIELD. (AP)—The eighth new oil field in three years has come in on Richfield's Tupman-Western No. 1 lease, section 32, 30-25, Geologist Art Mason said today.

The well, Mason said, is producing 3018 barrels of high gravity oil daily and 18,000,000 cubic feet of gas from a depth of 8677 feet, with the casing at 8406 feet, the same as the Ten Section field. The company has 6000 acres surrounding the well.

FAILURES DECREASE

Mob Burns Swastika Flag

As a crowd looked on, a Swastika flag was burned in Chicago, after demonstrators broke up a south side meeting of the German-American Bund, the Swastika is the emblem of Nazi Germany. Several hundred persons, including women and children, were periled by flying stones, thrown through windows.

M'DONALD CASE GOES TO JURY

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—The jury trying Charles McDonald for the shooting of Mrs. Emma Krueger, wife of a famous symphony conductor, retired to consider the fate of the electrician charged with intent to commit murder, shortly before noon today.

The case was given to the six men and six women after the state, in its rebuttal argument, demanded a prison term, which would be from one to 14 years if the jurors found him guilty.

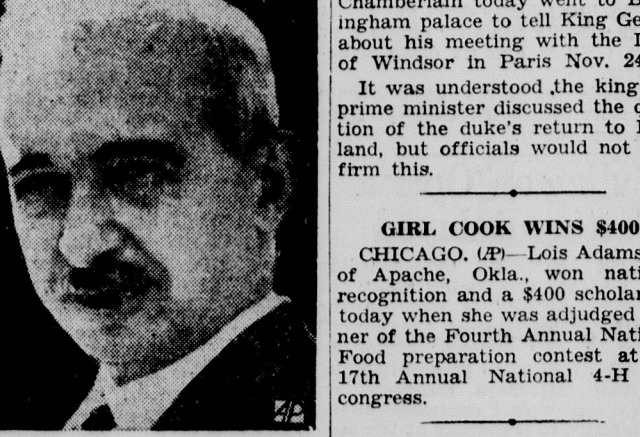

The defendant, who testified his mind "went blank" before Mrs. Krueger was critically wounded last Aug. 19, asserted she alienated the affections of his wife, Frances, whom she employed as governess for her daughter.

Annual L. A. Tax Bill 85 Millions

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Taxes levied by the county, schools and special districts of Los Angeles county total $85,839,283 for 1938-1939, an increase of $3,865,737 over the preceding year, the California Taxpayers' association reported today.

WRECK OF BRITISH FLYING BOAT

LONDON. (AP)—Imperial Airways today announced the $200,000 flying boat Calpurnia had been found wrecked on Lake Ramadi, Iraq, with one of the crew dead, three missing and two injured.

A searching party recovered the body of Radio Officer E. B. Rees, and gave first aid to Steward D. E. Anderson and Station Officer Harrison who were injured.

Pilot Captain E. H. Atwood, first officer A. N. Spottiswoode and flight clerk F. G. Ubee were missing.

The Calpurnia left Southampton Nov. 25 with mail and cargo for India. After hopping from Tiberias, on the Sea of Galilee, yesterday, the plane was last reported at 6:32 p. m. Sunday near Lake Habbaniyah.

The Calpurnia was the fourth "C class" flying boat to meet disaster.

The others were the Capricornus, which crashed in France on her maiden flight in March, 1937, with five persons killed; the Courier, which crashed at Athens in October, 1937, with three dead, and the Cygnus, which fell at Brindisi, Italy, in December, 1937, with two dead.

Chicago Pickets Victors

CHICAGO. (AP)—An attempt by American Federation of Labor workers to operate the Chicago stockyards in the face of a strike called by the CIO apparently failed today.

Thomas Devero, business agent of Local 517 of the AFL Livestock Handlers' union, had guaranteed to have between 150 and 200 men at work in the huge yards by 6 a. m.

NO STOCK MOVING

Hours after that time, Orvis T. Henkle, general manager of the Union Stock Yard and Transit company, announced not a man had reported for work. Trading still was suspended, and livestock receipts were about one-tenth of normal.

AFL headquarters claimed some men had slipped through the picket lines, but no stock was found moving in the yards, and William Hunter, chief of stockyard police, said no working passes had been issued.

"We shall call off the strike if the management will agree to negotiate a written agreement and to bargain in good faith," Van A. Bittner, chairman of the Packing House Workers organizing committee, set forth in a statement.

CIO WINS VOTE

He pointed out the CIO handlers' union had been selected last March as the sole bargaining agent for the handlers at the yards. He added:

"We hope a major strike will not occur in the packing house industry, which will be prevented if the packers comply with the laws of our nation and bargain collectively with the Packing House Workers organizing committee."

NATIONWIDE MOVE

"If it takes a strike of all of Armour's plants throughout the country to enforce the laws, the Packing House Workers' organizing committee will certainly do its part."

Directors of the Chicago Livestock Exchange—made up of commission men who act as sales agents for farmers at the yards' open market—announced they would defer a decision on resuming sales until after representatives of the management and the CIO strikers meet with federal conciliators at a peace parley this afternoon, 2 p. m. central standard time.

Buron Fitts Plans New Werner Trial

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—District Attorney Buron Fitts told the Women's City club today he was going to bring to trial again Helen Werner, former political boss, and her husband, Ervin, former city attorney, "even though he was the best man at my wedding."

The Werners were convicted of soliciting a bribe but the appellate court ordered a new trial. Fitts started action immediately to have the supreme court set aside the appellate court's action.

British To Ask Il Duce Peace Help

British Leaders Plan Trip to Italy In January to Obtain New Accord

LONDON. (AP)—The government announced tonight Prime Minister Chamberlain and Foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax would go to Italy during the first half of January to confer with Premier Mussolini in furtherance of Chamberlain's European appeasement policy.

Informed persons described the prime minister as confident that negotiations which would lead to a broad-scale accord among the European big four, Britain, Germany, Italy and France.

Chamberlain already has concluded with Mussolini an agreement for composition of Anglo-Italian differences in the Mediterranean, Africa and the Near East, the Easter accord which was put into effect Nov. 16.

The foreign office issued the following announcement:

"At the meeting at Munich (the four-power conference of Sept. 29 which dismembered Czechoslovakia) Signor Mussolini suggested to the prime minister that he should at some future date pay a visit to Rome."

APPOINTMENT MADE

"An opportunity for making such a visit might occur during the forthcoming parliamentary recess, inquiries were made as to whether a date in the first half of January would be suitable to Signor Mussolini. His excellency has stated that he would in principle welcome a visit from the prime minister and the foreign secretary at that time."

The announcement of his Italian visit came shortly after the prime minister had told the house of commons that Britain had not committed herself to send an expeditionary force to France in case of war.

BRUSQUE REPLY

Sir Percy Harris, Liberal, asked "whether this country is under certain circumstances committed to send an expeditionary force to France in case of war."

Second Receiver For Well Fought

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—A writ to prevent Superior Judge W. R. Bradshaw of Kern county from appointing a second receiver for an oil well known as the Hugh Adams-Glode No. 2 was asked in the state supreme court today by Edward R. Richeter, owner, and W. B. Poole, receiver of the well.

The petition, which challenged the superior court's jurisdiction to name the second receiver, said Judge Bradshaw had designated William Rennie, Jr., for the position in the case of the Shell Oil company and Texas company against Richeter and Poole.

L. A. County Fire Loss $5,000,000

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—G. G. Isenminger, sheriff's deputy of the Malibu sub-station, said today the fire damage in the county, outside Los Angeles city limits would exceed $5,000,000. He said 76 homes and cabins were burned in the county territory.

MOTORCYCLIST BLAMED FOR DEATH OF GIRL

Blame for the death of Lois Bartoll, 20-year-old Santa Ana girl who died in a motorcycle accident in Orange a week ago, today was placed on Peter Lambing, San Pedro sailor.

A coroner's jury, meeting for an inquest at McAulay and Suters funeral chapel in Fullerton, returned a verdict that the girl's death was due to the negligent manner in which Lambing was driving the motorcycle.

The girl was reportedly riding on the back of the motorcycle, which struck a car driven by Noble C. Renna of Yorba Linda. The girl died Tuesday at the Orange county hospital from a basal skull fracture.

Coroner Abbey said the verdict of the coroner's jury will be turned over to the district attorney's office for whatever action necessary.

Miss Bartoll had been a resident at 2402 North Flower street.

100,000 Civilian Pilots To Be Trained For National Defense

RESERVE BIG AS GERMANY'S IS U. S. AIM

NEW YORK. (AP)—A plan for training 100,000 civilian pilots and 125,000 mechanics at government expense during the next five years to buttress the national air defense has been agreed upon by the army air corps and the civil aeronautics authority.

It must hurdle the scrutiny of President Roosevelt, to whom the scheme is scheduled to be presented late this week, and obtain the approval of the new congress meeting in January before it could become effective.

Intended as part of the air rearmament program under contemplation by the administration, it would give the United States an air force reserve numerically approximately that which Germany is reliably reported to have at the present time.

Louis Johnson, assistant secretary of war, already has mentioned the figure of 12,000 air-planes as a likely goal toward which the army will build in the equipment aspect of the air rearmament program. A force of 30,000 planes for the navy was authorized by the last congress.

As worked out by the army and the CAA, the civilian training program would be carried out at the rate of 20,000 pilots and 25,000 mechanics a year at approved commercial schools, with the government footing the entire bill.

The more promising graduates would be offered the opportunity of continuing their training—learning to pilot faster and larger air corps planes, instrument flying and the finer points of engine and airplane upkeep—as a special class of reservists on active duty.

Some 35,000 persons hold "student" flying licenses now. About 5,000 mechanics are enrolled in commercial schools. The two groups would be culled over to obtain a nucleus for the proposed civilian air corps.

In an address at Cleveland last winter, Maj. Gen. Frank M. Andrews, chief of the general headquarters air force, said an acute need for more pilots existed.

Among the directors of commercial schools who were called into consultation at Washington last week on the army-CAA plan were those from the Boeing School of Aeronautics, Oakland, Calif., the Casey Jones School of Aeronautics, Newark, N. J., and the Curtiss-Wright Technical Institute, Glendale, Calif.

Women of English Town Stay Indoors After Nightfall as 'Phantom Slasher' Hits 11th

HALIFAX, England. (AP)—Women of this grimy North England town today were ordered to remain indoors after nightfall because of a "phantom slasher" who strikes unseen along darkened ways.

The slasher added an eleventh victim to his list early this morning, slipping up behind Mrs. Constance Wood, a mill worker, only a few yards from her doorway.

He knocked her down, hacked through her heavy coat to inflict two gashes in her left arm, and escaped.

Police have been unable to trace the slasher who has attacked eleven persons within the past seven days. All but two of the victims were women. None was seriously wounded.

Screams from one of two women who were slashed last night brought nearby firemen to the rescue. Crowds leaving church joined the hunt but without success.

It was feared the phantom, who so far only has wounded his victims with a sharp-edged weapon, might suddenly turn murderer.

Women of this industrial town, at least those brave enough still to venture out at night, were arming themselves with large handbags, bags of pepper and walking-sticks for self-defense.

Patrols of Boy Scouts were pressed into service. Some believed the attacks might be the work of three persons who, as one police official put it, were "reveling in publicity."

Since the majority of those slashed were women, another theory was that "the phantom" might be someone who had been supplanted in his job by a woman.

The only clue to the slasher's identity has come from one of the women victims who described him as having "staring eyes and a big mouth" which she said she would recognize again.

It was expected troops would be brought in soon if other measures fail to catch him.

3 Interim Senators Receive Title, Offices, Barbering, $833.33 a Month--That's All
WASHINGTON. (AP)—A special brand of legislation—the interim senator—is quietly going about his business on Capitol Hill these days.

The nation has three of these short term officials, who were chosen this month to serve only until Jan. 3, when the 76th congress meets.

They are Thomas M. Storke of California, Gladys Pyle of South Dakota and Alex. G. Barry of Oregon.

How does a citizen get to be an interim senator? Well, there are two ways—by election and by appointment.

Senator Storke was appointed after Senator McCadoo resigned. Senators Pyle and Barry were elected to fill vacancies. Neither did very much campaigning, however.

What privileges do they enjoy? They get the title of senator. They get office suites, and their names go up on the door. They can send out mail free. They can push the capital elevator buttons three times for special service.

The two men can get free shaves and haircuts at the capitol, but they probably will have to hand out Christmas tips to the barbers amounting to more than the tonorial service would cost.

If Senator Pyle wants a permanent leave, she'll have to pay for it. The senate barber shop is not open to women senators.

All three senators also get paid at the rate of $833.33 a month. However, they don't get the regular 20 cents a mile traveling allowance. When you figure the expense from Oregon and California any back along with what it costs to stay in Washington, they won't make much.

The interim senators don't get sworn in, and they don't get a seat in the senate chamber unless they just walk in and sit down somewhere.

Senate employees say interim senators usually do that—just for the heck of it.

CHAMBERLAIN TO SEE IL DUCE IN JANUARY

France, and whether as a result of the recent visit to Paris there has been any increase in such commitments.

The prime minister replied brusquely. "The answer is in the negative."

Harris was referring to the Nov. 23-25 visit of Chamberlain and Foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax to the French capital, where defense problems of the two powers were considered.

Chamberlain also said, "No new decision on the question of granting belligerent rights to General Franco (the Spanish insurgent leader) was reached" during the Paris visit.

AGREE ON POLICY
Chamberlain's statement coincided with reports the active 69-year-old prime minister was planning a journey to Rome to further his policy of European appeasement.

Chamberlain told the house he and French Premier Daladier "found ourselves in complete agreement on the general policy of the two countries, which in both cases finds its main object in the preservation and consolidation of peace."

He said they had discussed "matters of national defense as well as of diplomatic action," but added "as the purpose of the meeting was to exchange views rather than to take decision, I am not in a position to make a more detailed statement."

Asked whether the conversations involved any defense obligations on Britain, Chamberlain replied, "No, sir."

GERMANY ANGRY
Solid water has been thrown upon his dreams of a four-power agreement since the Munich Czechoslovakia partition. Germany is angry with Britain since the English outburst against Nazi anti-Semitism, and Italy has not indicated any great friendliness toward France.

Chamberlain's hope of a general settlement among the four is said to rest with Mussolini. Il Duce in turn would be expected to try to persuade Hitler to endorse the idea.

FRENCH LABOR CRISIS NEARS SHOWDOWN

postponement of the Wednesday strike.

Labor's impatience was shown, however, by a new strike at Dunkerque where 5000 metal workers struck in protest against the government's policies.

MILITARY CONTROL
Interior Minister Albert Sarraut, returning from the funeral of Kamal Ataturk, later president of Turkey, at Ankara resumed his office and conferred with the premier.

The government was understood to be preparing to follow up its week-end appeals to the nation against the strike and to be prepared, if necessary, to put subways, buses, telephones and radio under military control.

Railroad workers were notified by the government they would face penitentiary terms up to five years if they refused to work after being mobilized into the army.

LABOR DEFIANT
Labor leaders retorted that the government could not possibly prosecute a half-million men.

About 100,000 French workmen have struck for brief periods since the strike wave began last week. A step toward compromise was seen last night in Premier Daladier's radio broadcast. The premier disclaimed all wishes to become a dictator and declared that the unpopular decree laws could be changed by parliament when it meets in December if the deputies chose.

TELEVISION'S REAL TEST DUE IN '39, BELIEF

HOLLYWOOD. (AP)—The film industry, which has been watching the development of television with a wary eye, expects the "real test" of public response will come in 1939.

This was disclosed in a report by the industry's academy of motion picture arts and sciences available today.

Declaring the "long experimental phase" of television development is about to culminate, the report says "the real test of public response will come next year when regular service is initiated and receivers become available in a number of types and sizes."

"The public, from the role of spectators, will become participants in the project, and on the extent and manner of that participation the effects on the motion picture industry will depend."

"That the repercussions will result in revolutionary changes in motion picture production and exhibition within the next two years is unlikely."

"The complexity of the television field and the magnitude of its artistic and financial problems are an automatic brake in this respect, and it might be added that this is true of competitive and co-operative potentialities alike."

Robber Blamed in Rancher's Death
LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Police today blamed the slaying of Henry Schroeder, 50, chicken rancher, on a robber who beat him to death in an attempt to learn where he hid his savings.

Schroeder's body was found at his home yesterday by a neighbor who came to buy eggs. The rancher reportedly hoarded money, officers were told.

Skinny Skribbles

out of that scheme was the promoters. The new state administration is in advance of taking official control, giving its attention on how to save money instead of spending it.

Another thing to be thankful for is that all Santa Ana can get from forest fires is the smoke. Our location is beyond the timber line.

Frank Nickey's Boy Scouts put in an active Saturday forenoon clearing the lot at Third and Bush streets for their habitation during the Christmas season. The boys changed it from a midget golf course to a business location, and will make the spot headquarters for Christmas trees. It is an annual custom of troop 24 to become little merchants.

The treasury is replenished in this manner. The boys adjourned Saturday forenoon in time to drink malted milks at Nickey's expense. All work and no drinks isn't a part of the Scout curriculum, at least not 24's.

May I call your attention to the inescapable fact that while you are reading this paragraph there are only 23 more shopping days until Christmas. So, what are you going to do about it?

And it won't be long now before the holiday season will be given an emphasis through the decorations installed by the Business Men's association which takes annual charge of that Yuletide feature.

There's music, too, of the Christmas carol type, and your mother used to sing, and which the world has been singing ever since the Bethlehem incident.

The greatest criminal in the world is carelessness. He brings human sorrow and material destruction. He sows the harvest of grief, and inflicts pain and distress over the face of the earth. He disregards the voice of experience and caution, and continues his interrupted afflictions upon the just and the unjust. He refuses to listen to the words of wisdom, and flippantly and defiantly continues to sweep away the labor of lifetimes, and take loved ones in his deadly embrace. In every walk of life carelessness takes toll of labor performed and loved ones protected. If you have had an indifferent attitude toward life and property, look at the forest fire pictures appearing in the daily press—the result of carelessness.

L. A. Investigators Take Up Contracts
LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Scores of city contracts for garbage disposal, patent paving and other activities were gathered by district attorney's investigators today for grand jury consideration in Los Angeles' graft scandal.

With several indictments already voted as a result of accusations against the city civil service department, it was indicated the grand jury would next delve into affairs of the board of public works.

Benefit Societies Held Tax Exempt
SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—State Attorney General U. S. Webb held in an opinion today that fraternal benefit societies and employee benefit organizations were not taxable under the California 2 1/2 per cent gross premium tax applied to insurance companies.

Webb, in the opinion requested by State Director of Finance A. E. Stockburger, said fraternal and employee societies did not come within the legal definition of insurance companies.

FLOOD THREAT INCREASES AS FIRE'S RESULT

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Southern California's calamitous series of brush and forest fires, conquered after a loss of $5,000,000 in property and denuded watersheds, sharply heightened today the danger of floods this winter.

Approximately 37,000 acres were burned over in five counties since last Wednesday, the chief damage being in the Santa Monica and San Bernardino ranges.

A new million-dollar resort will rise on the ashes of the $750,000 Arrowhead Springs hotel, razed by the San Bernardino fire last week, it was announced by a syndicate including Jay Paley of the Columbia Broadcasting System and Movie Producer Joseph Schenck.

More than 10,000 acres were swept by flames on the slopes of the mountains behind the city of San Bernardino, creating a grave problem in flood control.

Not only San Bernardino, but Colton, Riverside, Santa Ana and Fullerton would be menaced by the run-off of heavy rains in the region, such as produced a destructive flood last March.

The San Bernardino county supervisors were to meet today to consider emergency measures.

Some 22,000 acres were ravaged in the Santa Monica mountains by a fire brought under control yesterday. Since most of this area drains directly into the Pacific ocean, the flood control situation was not so critical as at San Bernardino.

Spence D. Turner, Los Angeles county fire warden, said it would take 20 years to replace the trees and shrubs that had blanketed the Santa Monica range. Canyon homes, roads and beaches will be in danger of washouts until new verdure is grown, he said.

Theo. J. Harris' Second Trial Set
A second trial for Theo. J. Harris, Los Angeles promoter accused of bilking a West Orange rancher out of $350 in an oil lease deal, was set today for Jan. 9.

A jury had disagreed last week in Harris' trial, and Superior Judge G. K. Scovel fixed the new trial date today. The Los Angeles man is accused of grand theft of $350 from Edwin G. Maier, West Orange rancher, in a deal involving oil leases in Chavez county, New Mexico.

Taxes In Orange County Increase $2,000,000 In Four Years

STATE ASS'N MAKES PUBLIC LEVY REPORT

Orange county taxes—collected for county, school and special district purposes—have increased nearly $2,000,000 in the past four years, the California Taxpayers' association reported today.

The increase here has been 54 per cent, compared with a statewide average of 43 per cent over the same period.

Taxes levied on property here in 1938-39 were $5,546,052, an increase of $1,937,958 over the 1934-35 levy of $3,608,094, the association's study revealed. The figure included taxes levied by county, school and special district governments in the county, but not taxes levied by the cities. The 1937-38 levy was $5,274,960.

Taxes levied by the county for current purposes went from $1,104,432 in 1934-35 to $1,693,353 in 1938-39; county levies for bonds totaled $151,062 in 1934-35 and were $67,234 in 1938-39.

Local property taxes levied for the school districts in the county totaled $1,387,378 in 1934-35 and went to $2,343,495 in this fiscal year, while levies for school bonds dropped from $573,170 to $522,384 in the two fiscal years. Special district taxes more than doubled, mostly because of flood control, from $394,052 in 1934-35 to $919,586 in 1938-39.

Average increase over the state as a whole was 42 per cent over the surveyed period, or 11 per cent less than the increase in Orange county.

The levy for 1934-35, the association said, was the lowest in the present decade and reflected both the relief of local property through the transfer of county school support to the state general fund and the accumulated force of depression economies.

FOOD DROPPED TO HUNTERS

AURORA, Me. (AP)—A state police-chartered airplane dropped food today to snow-marooned hunters and CCC youths in this northeastern Maine forest area while police, national guardsmen and game wardens battled snowdrifts in an effort to open travel lanes.

Thirty sacks of food were dropped to approximately 20 parties from the plane, piloted by Don Mason of Bangor. They were among the 100 hunters and CCC youths reported cut off by huge drifts piled up by two blizzards since Thanksgiving day.

Waving their hands and leaping in the snow, the hunters attracted the airplane party as it flew over Amherst, Aurora, Beddington, Deblois and other townships unnamed in state maps.

'CORN KING' OF U. S. CROWNED

CHICAGO (AP)—William H. Curry of Tipton, Ind., was named 1938 "corn king" at the International Grain and Hay show today. It was Curry's third successive title. He showed a sample of 10 ears of Reid's yellow dent.

By winning the title today Curry automatically will be barred from competition for three years under rules of the show. No one ever before had won the title three successive years.

The title of corn prince, the premier award to a junior corn grower, went to Richard B. Blackwell, of Franklin, Ind., who also showed a sample of Reid's yellow dent. Blackwell is a student at Depauw university.

Australia Will Seek Trade Pact

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—Australia is planning to put out official "feelers" soon for a trade agreement with the United States, to fall in line with the United Kingdom and Canada.

It was announced Stanley M. Bruce, Australian high commissioner in London, would leave for home Dec. 10, traveling by way of Washington where it is expected he will talk over trade treaty possibilities.

EDITOR KING OF HEMET DIES

HEMET—Death of John E. King, 68, publisher of the Hemet News, at a San Bernardino hospital closed a colorful newspaper career of 55 years.

He had been critically ill for two weeks. Mr. King was one of the best-known publishers in California, and had a national reputation in the weekly newspaper field.

King published the Hemet News since 1912 and since 1933 also was receiver of the San Bernardino, Rialto and Victorville National banks. In 1925 he was appointed to the office of state printer of California by Governor Richardson and served three years. During 1927 and 1928 he was a member of the state board of education.

In 1932 he was a Democratic presidential elector and in 1934 was a candidate for the Democratic nomination for congress from the 18th district.

TATTLERS WILL SEE MOVIE

Colored motion pictures of Europe will be shown tomorrow night when members of Tavern Tattlers, Santa Ana Junior college literary society, meet in the jaycee library at 7:30 for their regular meeting.

Henry Meier of Orange took the pictures while a member of T. H. Glenn's tour last summer. He will explain the pictures as they are shown.

President Carroll Richardson will preside at the meeting.

4 Farm Groups to Meet in Ventura

VENTURA (AP)—Ventura will play host to four California farming conventions next week.

The 71st Annual Farmers and Fruit Growers' convention, with C. C. Teague in charge of the general agriculture section, will be held Dec. 5 and 6.

On Dec. 7 agricultural commissioners from all counties in the state will conduct their annual meeting.

The Associated Farmers of California will take over on Dec. 8 on the following day, Associated Farmers' directors of 11 western states will convene for a business session.

Newman Club to Hold Initiation

Plans were being completed today for the formal initiation of Santa Ana Junior College students into the Newman club, Catholic youth organization. The induction rites are to be held in the Knights of Columbus hall Wednesday night, President Jack Murphy said.

Approximately 40 students will be taken in as charter members of the jaycee chapter. The initiation ceremony is expected to be put on by a team from Los Angeles.

'Frameup!' Cries Doctor When Found Guilty on Kidnap Charge

OLYMPIA, Wash. (AP)—Charges of "frame-up" and promises of a grand jury investigation today followed the conviction of Dr. Kent W. Berry, society physician, and three others in the torture-kidnaping of Irving Baker, whom the doctor accused of attacking pretty Mrs. Berry.

The 50-year-old doctor, facing possible life imprisonment, charged he was the victim of a frame-up and said he would appeal his conviction on first degree kidnaping charges. His three co-defendants likewise planned appeals.

Dr. Berry was accused of plotting the kidnaping and torture of Baker, handsome 37-year-old former coast guard officer, after alleging he raped Mrs. Berry, 27, following a July 4 week-end party. Baker denied attacking the woman.

After the superior court jury returned a verdict yesterday recommending life imprisonment for

Berry, William K. McAloon, 55, former town marshal; James Reddick, 27, taxi driver, and Albert H. Smith, 32, dairy farmer, Berry shouted:

"The prosecution rigged up this whole thing, of course we'll appeal. If there ever was a frame-up, this is it."

The court ruled against admissibility of such evidence.

Noted Expert on Farming Is Dead

HARTSVILLE, S. C. (AP)—David Robert Coker, 68, noted agriculturist and capitalist, died today at his home here.

Known widely as a plant breeder and cotton expert, Coker was the originator of staple cotton varieties planted widely in the United States and elsewhere.

Prosecutor Smith Troy said he would ask for a grand jury investigation of these charges. He said he believed the inquiry was necessary to clear himself and other officers.

Dr. Berry, McAloon and Reddick also were held guilty of first degree assault, for which maximum punishment of 20 years in prison is prescribed. Smith was convicted of second degree assault, a 10-year offense.

The four were tried for forcing Baker from his home August 19 and torturing him with a belt and pliers while he lay bound hand and foot in an isolated gravel pit.

Smith may receive leniency because of testimony during the trial that he dissuaded Berry from emasculating Baker.

Judge John M. Wilson announced he would hear motions for a new trial within two weeks. Pronouncement of sentences will await disposal of that motion.

WOMAN, HELD HERE, CAUSES ARREST OF TWO

Arrest of a Santa Ana woman on drunk charges lead to the arrest of two men on burglary charges today.

Taken into custody for drunkenness, Mrs. Lillie Hallager, 1108 West Fifth street, told police her husband and another man had told her they had robbed a bus depot in Riverside.

After her husband, Sven Hallager, 27-year-old machinist, and Lester Roseberry, 27, of Anaheim, were arrested for Riverside police, Mrs. Hallager repeated her accusation, according to investigating officers.

The men assertedly stole $25 from the bus depot.

Insurgent Bombs Hit British Ships

BARCELONA (AP)—Two British freighters, the Stanwell and Stan-grove, were damaged today when five Savoia-type Spanish insurgent airplanes raided the Port of Barcelona. No casualties were reported.

The Stanwell was hit squarely by a bomb which pierced her forward deck and exploded below, wrecking her forecastle and a hold. The Stan-grove was peppered by bomb fragments.

I Just Found Out About Orange County

By BOB SWANSON

Prize-Winner

Nearly 70,000 pounds of horse-flesh—and all of it championship caliber!

That, in brief, summarizes the Ed Stinson and Sons ranch near Orange where championship Belgian draft horses are produced for show purposes as well as for general farm work.

On the ranch now are 38 thoroughbreds, the average weighing from 1800 to 2200 pounds. The Stinsons and their horses are familiar to every prominent county fair in California, and they have appeared as far east as Kansas City.

From July to October, the Stinsons and their horses are on the circuit—just like a circus—traveling from fair to fair, and appearing in numerous rodeos, special celebrations, and horse shows. The important thing is that the Stinsons come home with bundles of ribbons, silver cups and cash prizes.

For months, some of the horses do not see the home ranch as they are moved by train or truck throughout the state. Regular trip made each year is the state fair at Sacramento. This year county fairs at Santa Barbara, Santa Maria, Pomona, Stockton, and nearly a dozen other events drew the participation of the Stinson horses.

Transportation costs run high, except to Sacramento. A provision in the franchise granted to the railroads in the early days provided that show horses being transported to the state fair must be done so free of charge. To take 16 horses to the state fair would cost more than $1000.

For short trips, such as to the Covered Wagon Days celebration at San Bernardino, the horses and wagons are sent by truck.

The Stinsons often go into Arizona to show their horses at rodeos or fairs. Once they entered a Belgian horse show in Kansas City. This was the longest trip yet made.

Ed Stinson, Jr., holds the distinction of being the only man in the world to drive a 16-horse hitch. Difficult though it is, he can handle the tons of horseflesh without a slip, just as an ordinary motorist would drive down Main street.

The Stinsons hitch the horses to special "footlock" wagons built for short, sharp turns. The front wheels can turn completely under the wagon.

To hold 16 prancing, dancing horses and put them through their paces is a terrific strain on the hands and arms. Because of the danger of falling, the driver is strapped in the wagon seat. This also gives more leverage in holding the horses.

Driving 16 horses requires eight separate reins—four in each hand. It's an art to be able to turn the steeds completely around, loosing and tightening the handful of reins.

For the 16-horse hitch, four horses are hitched abreast. There are two reins for each four-horse group. While its best to hold on to the reins with both hands, the driver can hold the reins with one hand if necessary, by holding the lines between each finger, running the ends over his thumb.

Ed Stinson, Jr., claims he's only had one runaway at a show. Only damage was the virtual wrecking of a Ford car. One horse landed on the running seat and Stinson, who had been heading the heads of the lead team when they started running, was dragged over the car and onto the radiator.

Danger of runaways is smallest with the largest number of horses, he claims. With 16 huge draft horses hitched to a wagon, one horse can't do much if he decides to run—he can't very well drag the other 15 with him. A two-horse hitch, however, can hardly be stopped because there are no other horses to hold them back.

The Stinsons have been making the rounds of fairs, horse shows, rodeos, and other special events for 15 years. They had an entry in the Armistice day parade at Orange, and at Orange's Golden Jubilee parade.

Just because the horses are used for show is no indication they don't have to work. All of them are used for regular heavy-duty track work.

Stinsons also have a contract this year to take care of the Santa Anita race track during the approaching season. Four teams will be kept at the track to harrow it after every race.

The job was formerly done with tractors, but this year track officials decided machinery didn't belong on a race track. Besides, tractors packed the ground down too hard. Previous to and during the season, the track will be ploughed with a tractor about 3 a. m., then harrowed by Stinsons' horses during the early morning.

Before the racing season begins, the race horses will be taking daily workouts. During the race

Record Breaking Sea Scout Rendezvous Closes With Awards

CULVER CITY AGAIN TAKES CHAMPIONSHIP

NEWPORT BEACH.—Heralded as the most successful event, both from a stand-point of attendance and competition, they had ever sponsored, more than 800 Sea Scouts and their officers of California, Utah and Arizona closed a three-day rendezvous here yesterday.

The third rendezvous shattered all attendance records, and the fourth annual event has been assured for Newport in 1939. Harrison White, Orange county Boy Scout executive, said.

The Sea Scout ship Louie B. from Culver City, perfectly drilled and uniformed, captured the all-around championship for the third consecutive year under the direction of Skipper Charles Stamps.

Points were awarded for competitive events, uniforms, neatness of camps and general appearance and ability. The winning troop is sponsored by Louis B. Mayer, motion picture magnate.

The ship Malolo of Los Angeles was awarded second prize in the all-events competition. Other winners were Pinta, Beverly Hills, third; Seal Hawk, National Sea Scout flagship from Berkeley, fourth; Islander, Santa Monica, fifth; Buccaneer, Santa Monica, sixth; Sea Ghost, Los Angeles, seventh, and Westley, Orange county, eighth.

Special honors were awarded the Sea Scout troop skippered by Byron Quivey of Santa Ana, which put on a breeches buoy drill and a special diving demonstration for emergency rescues. Among members of the troop are John Cleary, Don and Eugene Hanaker, Don Dunning, Bob Anderson, Leslie Crawford, Stanton Converse, Lyle Moyer, Bud Wycoff, Byron Quivey, Bill Low, Bob Shaw and Lloyd Johnson.

Members of the Range ship of Newport, skippered by Fred Eastman, won a first place in swimming competition. The Huntington Beach Sea Scouts, in charge of Walter Dabney, were commended in boat inspections, their 28-foot Dory being one of the finest equipped entered. Fullerton troop, in charge of Don Keller and W. C. Tucker, won fifth place in sailing, and other honors were taken by the Tustin Scouts, in charge of Frank Mansur.

Commodore Howard Gillette of Chicago hailed the rendezvous as the finest Sea Scout exhibition he had ever seen. Capt. Young of the Coast Guard also was high in his praise for the big event.

LA HABRA MAN KILLED IN L. A.

Benito Baragas, 35, of La Habra, was killed yesterday when his automobile reportedly overturned at 7133 East Rosecrans avenue, Los Angeles.

According to reports, Baragas was injured fatally when the car which he was driving was forced from the highway by an unidentified driver, his car overturning.

Seriously injured in the same accident were Jesus Luna, La Habra, and Cosme Garcia, Artesia, who were riding with Baragas. They were taken to the Artesia hospital. Baragas was found dead upon arrival, while police said Luna and Garcia would recover.

Many Problems Before H. B. Group

HUNTINGTON BEACH.—The chamber of commerce will meet tonight to consider sponsoring an entry in the annual Tournament of Roses parade in Pasadena. A float and band probably will be entered in the New Year's celebration.

The chamber also will discuss progress on zoning, oil problems and Christmas decoration and lighting projects.

Articles of incorporation for the First Pentecostal Church of Buena Park were on file today with County Clerk B. J. Smith.

The church, which previously had existed as an unincorporated organization, filed papers listing David Nagley, Oscar Kelley and Aaron Turner, all of Buena Park, as directors of the non-profit organization.

period, the track will be worked over after every race.

Stinsons also have a contract to let property on the General Petroleum's tank farms clear of weeds. The tank farms are located in Wilmington and throughout Southern California. Weeds have to be kept clear because of fire danger.

The Stinsons have literally bushels of ribbons won in competitions, and drawers full of trophies and cups—they've accumulated steadily for 15 years.

While Stinson claims to be the only man driving 16-horse hitch, one of their proudest victories this year was taking first place in—believe it or not—the one-horse hitch. They were proud because everyone always enters his best horse in that contest.

3 Best Marble Shooters of Huntington Beach Picked After Ball Park Tournament

HUNTINGTON BEACH.—Johnny Peebles, Ralph Weinheimer and James Howard are the city's best marble shooters. They won their titles in a tournament sponsored by the WPA recreation commission in the municipal ball park Saturday. More than 100 boys competed. Prizes were provided by Mayor M. M. McCallen.

Peebles, winner of the intermediate division, lives at 317 California street, and Weinheimer, champion of the midget division, lives at 602 California street.

Howard, 411 Indianapolis street, captured the older boys' competition. They won their titles in a tournament sponsored by the WPA recreation commission in the municipal ball park Saturday.

The tournament was the first of its kind ever held here. On the same day practice was underway for formation of an American Legion baseball team, with 50 boys vying for positions. W. H. Collins is in charge of the team.

Officers said Olsen had apparently dozed off for a moment when the crash occurred. He was treated at St. Joseph hospital, then taken to his home.

Eight other persons were injured in a series of week-end crashes, according to highway patrolmen.

O. H. Harmon, 32, 511 East Second street, and Ila Banta were treated at Santa Ana Valley hospital for minor injuries after Harmon's car was in a collision with a machine driven by Colby McKenney, 119 West Nineteenth street. The accident happened at 2 a. m. yesterday on U. S. highway 101 about 300 feet west of the Santa Ana river bridge.

Clifton Shaffer, 19, Fullerton, was treated by a physician early yesterday after his car was in a collision with a machine operated by William Clinton Schleifer, 23, Los Angeles.

Chester N. Setton, 25, Riverside, was removed to Corona hospital for treatment early yesterday after an accident in Santa Ana canyon involving cars driven by Kenneth Hammer, 22, Riverside, and Woodrow Allen, 24, Hynes.

Three persons received minor injuries in a collision of automobiles three miles north of Fullerton Saturday. Injured were Louis Martin Vreekin, 19, Los Angeles, William F. Walker, 31, La Habra, and Woodrow Allen, 24, Hynes.

All Democrats in the county are invited to attend, Head announced.

Orange county Democrats this week will launch their campaign for the election of a Democratic president in 1940.

That announcement came today from H. C. Head, chairman of the Orange County Assembly of Democrats, who said a meeting of his organization will be held Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. at College hall, Tenth and Main streets.

Program will consist of a resume of the accomplishments of the new deal, Head announced.

George Tobias will speak on "What the New Deal Has Done for Labor." Ernest Wooster will discuss "What the New Deal Has Done for Taxes" and Myrtle Knouse of Westminster will talk on "What the New Deal Has Done for Homes."

ANAHEIM MAN'S SUICIDE LAID TO ILLNESS

ANAHEIM.—Illness and depression were blamed today for the suicide of George W. Schachner, 44, Anaheim mechanic, who was found dead in his gas-filled automobile Saturday noon.

Coroner Earl Abbey reported Schachner had attached a rubber hose from the exhaust pipe to the interior of the car, which was parked in the rear of his home at 616 South Philadelphia street.

Schachner, who had lived in Anaheim nearly 16 years, is believed to have died sometime Friday night, his body not being discovered until the following day. His family was away at the time of his death, it was reported.

He is survived by his wife, Ruth R. Schachner, his mother, Lena Schachner; one son, Harley; a daughter, Helen; a brother, Fred; two sisters, Mrs. Ira Wells, and Mrs. William H. Schmidt. All are residents of Anaheim except Mrs. Schmidt, who lives at Beaumont.

Funeral arrangements have not been announced.

ORANGE YOUTH HURT AS CAR HITS TRUCK

James Saunders, 22, Orange, had a narrow escape from death today when his automobile was totally demolished after crashing into the rear of a truck parked on U. S. highway 101 near Flower street.

Highway patrolmen said the accident occurred at 8:15 a. m. today. The truck, operated by Ralph Olsen, Los Angeles, had stopped on U. S. highway 101 about 200 feet east of Flower street.

Officers said Olsen had apparently dozed off for a moment when the crash occurred. He was treated at St. Joseph hospital, then taken to his home.

Eight other persons were injured in a series of week-end crashes, according to highway patrolmen.

C. M. BABY DIES IN CRIB

COSTA MESA.—Death came to five-month-old Robert Weaver of Costa Mesa Saturday night as he slept in his crib.

The tiny son of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Weaver, 427 Hamilton street, Costa Mesa, apparently suffocated sometime during the night, Coroner Earl Abbey reported.

The baby was found dead by the parents when they awoke yesterday morning, Abbey said.

The body is at the Coffey funeral home in Orange, where Coroner Abbey said an inquest is pending.

Extortion Plot Laid to CCC Boy

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—A 22-year-old member of a Galice, Ore., CCC camp was in the Multnomah county jail today awaiting federal grand jury action on a charge of attempting to extort $10,000 from Shirley Temple's parents.

J. D. Swenson, federal bureau of investigation, said the youth, Hinton C. Hardison, formerly of Albany, Ga., waived preliminary hearing late Saturday at Medford, Ore., and was held on $50,000 bond.

U. S. MAY LIST ASSETS UNDER NEW BUDGET

WASHINGTON. (AP)—The treasury's bookkeepers may borrow an idea from business and show in a new type of budget what the country is getting for its "public improvements" money.

Officials disclosed today that Secretary Morgenthau and fiscal experts of various lending agencies have been studying the plan, which would set apart expenditures made for permanent improvements such as bridges, dams and roads.

Balanced against the expenditures themselves, which would be listed as government assets. Stripped of technicalities, the system might work like this:

The government might borrow $10,000,000 and build a dam, the power and irrigation water from which would be sold. The treasury would write down $10,000,000 on the liability side of its ledger, and at the same time would list the dam itself as a $10,000,000 asset.

From the income of the dam the treasury would set aside sums for operation, depreciation and debt retirement. Over a period of years the debt would be retired, and profits from the dam, if still were useful, would be deposited in the treasury's general funds and used for payment of ordinary government operating expenses.

This system is followed by industrial organizations when they build new plants or acquire new machinery. A similar system is in operation in Sweden.

The present treasury statements record only cash income and cash outgo. Officials said this accounting would have to be continued in its present form, because it is the only method of showing the actual cash condition of the government.

They added, however, that a supplemental statement showing the expenditures for public improvements and the asset value of the improvements might be issued annually or monthly.

A score of items might be included in the supplemental statement, including secured loans to home owners, loans to states and loans to business. Outlays of such agencies as the Tennessee Valley authority and the Farm Security administration also might be balanced against the assets they had acquired.

ESCAPE TO HOLLYWOOD by KATHRYN CULVER

Linda Bailey's father has been considered California's wealthiest citizen but, when he dies, she learns that he has left her practically nothing. Wishing to hide this from the townsfolk, she decides to drive to Hollywood and live a life of luxury. On the way bandits rob her, but a good-looking young man, who introduces himself only as "Martin," comes to her aid. In Los Angeles, she goes to stay with an aunt, only to learn that she, too, is in straitened circumstances. The operators of a phony dramatic "school," thinking she is wealthy, get hold of her, but she is not much interested in a girl named Mae Baxter, another screen aspirant. Linda decides to sell her car to get some ready cash, and Mae offers to help her.

They were in the midst of the packing, when the telephone rang. Linda answered it, and when she heard a man's voice asking for her, she knew there was no mistake this time—it was Martin!

"Martin! I've wondered... that is... Oh! You're downstairs? Yes, I'm right here." She was flushed as she turned from the phone. Rushing to the mirror, she dabbed her nose with a powder puff and fluffed out her hair. She saw Mae watching her curiously.

"It's a man I met on the way out," she explained hastily. "I'll tell you about him later... he's waiting downstairs now. I'll be back in a little while!"

"That's all right," said Mae. "A few minutes later, as she stepped from the elevator on the first floor, and saw Martin waiting for her in the lobby, a little thrill for her in the lobby. She had been trying not to think of him but ever since she had parted from him yesterday, she had been thinking of him a great deal.

Now, as he came forward with outstretched hand and a smile greeting, he seemed even handsomer than she had remembered him.

"You made it all right, I see," he said, came around just as soon as she could manage it.

"Oh, yes, I made it with gasoline to spare—and well sustained by sandwiches! As soon as I can get a check cashed, I'm going to repay you."

"That's quite unnecessary. I suppose you've been very busy this morning—signing movie contracts and that sort of thing?" He smiled down at her, a twinkle in his eyes.

SHE knew he was making fun of her aspirations, but she didn't mind.

"Oh, yes!" she said, laughing. "The producers have been here bidding against each other for my services! But they want me to sign five-year contracts, and I don't want to tie myself up that long."

"And quite right," he told her. "You just tell them to go jump in the ocean with their contracts. An attractive girl like you will probably be married long before five whole years go by!"

Though he spoke in a teasing tone, there was a note of seriousness in his voice which set the tingle dancing through Linda again.

"If I meet the right man," she said.

His hand was on her arm, and he was leading her toward a divan. "Are you quite sure you haven't already met the right man?" He gave her a quick glance.

"Well, there is a boy back home in Centerville."

"Let's not talk about him. They sat down together on the divan, and one of Linda's hands had somehow got into one of his. "Let's talk about you—your career," she accused.

"No, I'm serious now," he assured her. "I've been thinking that I might be able to get you a screen test."

Matron And Patron Fete Staff

Climax to a successful year was the formal dinner party at which the retiring worthy matron and patron of Santa Ana chapter Order of Eastern Star, entertained their officers, the latter's wives or husbands, and the standing committee members of the year. Mrs. Sue Henry and Forrest White were the hostess and host, giving the affair in the attractive new home of the former at 1501 North Bush street. Assisting them were Mrs. White, Spencer and Billy Henry, and Mrs. Henry's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Robinson.

The home was radiant in shades of green and gold, the matron's colors. Green tapers in gold chrysanthemum holders centered the 12 small dinner tables and the sideboard was banked with grapes and rich harvest fruits.

Featured with the desert course was a presentation of customary gifts, with the matron and patron presenting silver-trimmed table mirrors to the ladies and gold tiepins with the Star crest emblazoned on them to the men officers. Members of the committees received attractive silver serving forks.

In turn the officers presented Mrs. Henry with a sum of money with which she expects to buy draperies for her new home, and Mr. White with one which will go toward purchase of his past patron's jewel. Completing the Christmas-like ceremony was presentation of a white onyx table lamp to the matron by Mr. and Mrs. White.

At the close of dinner cards were played with prizes going to Mrs. Mildred Meyer, and Glenn Lyman for high scores, and to Mrs. Cleo Chandler and Roland Klosses, who scored low.

Present at the enjoyable affair, which precedes formal change in officers in the general chapter, were Dr. and Mrs. S. S. Aubin, the Messrs. and Mesdames Paul Cozad, Harvey DeWitt, Max Gowdy, Henry Meyer, Glenn Lyman, Nelson Smith, Olin Turner, Osburne Holmes, Roy Smith, W. C. McFarren, Alex Rez, C. A. Rousseau, John Bruns, Henry Roberts, George Shippe, Courtney Chandler, William Sylvester, Roland Klosses, H. B. Petty, Roy Miller, and the Mesdames Lillian Dawson, Lillian Vincent, Mary Adrian, Jessie Overton, Amanda Holmes, Martha Garthe, and Mabel Champbell.

CLASS IS ENTERTAINED

Mrs. Harry Dady was hostess at the B. Y. P. U. social session when it met with her one day last week.

Games were played during the morning hours, with Lorene Baught, Mary Louise Hart and Estella Davy winning awards. A short program was conducted by Mrs. Dady, with stories, songs, and a devotional hour concluding it. During a business session, it was decided to prepare the missionary boxes during the next month for the Christmas season. A stamp march was held during the Sunday evening services at the Santa Ana Gardens Baptist church, under the direction of this group.

A noon dinner was served the group by the Mesdames A. Hart, J. Willford, Stevens, Harrison, Elbert Baught, Harold Laethers, and the hostess. Members of the class who were present were Estella Davy, Lorene Baught, Louise Baught, Betty Ross, Phyllis Amo, Margaret, Thelma Evelyn and Norma Hart, Bruce and John Patterson, J. B. Chadwick, Bob and Kenneth Willford, Robert McGehee, Raymond Harrison, Jerry Amo, Donald Ringler, Charles Hart, Willard and Donald Dady and James Pisco.

Virnigs Host Eighteen At Dinner

A delightful event of the week-end was the charming dinner party at which Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Virnig entertained Saturday evening. Their attractive home at 2535 Valencia drive was abloom with tawny-hued autumn flowers.

In the formal dining room smart blue and white china and tapers were the sole decorative note, while in the near-by study a more informal mood was struck, with three small tables spread with colored cloths, centered by spluttering drip candles.

At the close of the delicious game dinner, result of the host's recent hunting expedition, bridge and bingo were played, with table prizes the awards.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Virnig were Dr. and Mrs. Carl Loerch, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bird, Mr. and Mrs. James Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Heyssel, Mr. and Mrs. Dowell Richards, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Young, Miss Marian Saunders, Mrs. Louis Vorhis, Dr. A. Lyon and Dr. Harold Weatherman.

R. N. A. MEETS FOR SOCIAL EVENING

Golden State R. N. A. held its regular monthly social session one night last week when the group met in the K. of C. hall for an 8 o'clock session.

During the evening, Chinese checkers amused the guests with I. H. Pennington, Hart Pennington and Miss Catherine Serger winning awards. Later refreshments in the Thanksgiving theme were served at individual tables.

The committee of the evening, who were Mr. and Mrs. John Baker and Mrs. Maxie Wilson. The next scheduled meeting of the group will be Dec. 14, with members requested to arrive at the hall at 7:30 p. m. for a short business session to precede the district meeting held in Orange, where the Santa Ana group will be guests.

OCTOGENARIAN IS HONORED

Honoring his father on his 86th birthday anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Pankey entertained a family group yesterday in their Lemo Heights home, with J. H. Pankey, Sr., the honor guest.

A venison dinner was served by Mrs. Pankey to Mrs. Dora Glines, Mrs. Pearl Loucks, Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Glines and daughter, Jo Anne, Edgar Pankey, Robert Pankey, and Miss Elizabeth Searies, who is soon to become a member of the family, for she will marry Edgar Pankey sometime in early spring.

Robert Pankey was home from Pomona college, where he is a senior, for the holidays, returning late last night.

ARE GUESTS IN LOS ANGELES

Dr. and Mrs. S. W. Robbins of Los Angeles were hosts to several members of their family at a Thanksgiving dinner, among them their niece and nephew, Mrs. Arthur May and Dr. Harry Huffman of Santa Ana.

Mr. and Mrs. May with Douglas and Irma Jean, and Dr. and Mrs. Huffman with Betty Ann and Harriet, drove to the enjoyable affair together.

WILSONS HAVE DINNER PARTY

A belated Thanksgiving dinner was that enjoyed yesterday by the family of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Wilson, 846 North Ross street, and a few guests.

In the group were Miss Edna Wilson of Yuma, Miss Arden Murray of Irvine, Mrs. Dorothy Close with small Arthur and Sharon, and Curtis Rounds of Los Angeles.

WAHLBERGS ENTERTAIN AT REUNION DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. Hans Wahlberg received a number of relatives at their home Thanksgiving day, serving a turkey dinner at the reunion event.

Especially honored were Mrs. Wahlberg's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Jensen, visiting here from Chicago. Others present were Mrs. Cora Cahill, her mother, whose home is in Huntington Park; a brother, William Cahill of Santa Barbara; another brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cahill of San Francisco; and the Wahlbergs' children, Cora Lynn and Terry.

Following close on the heels of the happy event was the wedding morning of Mrs. Wahlberg's sister, Miss Patricia Cahill, who became the bride of Robert Dargart of Huntington Park with the entire family and many Santa Ana friends in attendance at the St. Matthias church ceremony.

HOLIDAY VISITORS IN SANTA ANA

Guests of the Larry McKeown home, 1314 South Parton street, have been Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Vannote of Live Oaks, Calif.

Returning last night for their home, Mrs. McKeown's mother, Mrs. Lucy McGinnis accompanied them. She has made her home in Santa Ana for the past four months.

Thanksgiving Day's an open house was held, with the two couples as hosts to friends who dropped by in the afternoon.

TRIO HOSTS THANKSGIVING DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Yergler and their daughter, Mrs. Lee Frances Barrett, entertained at an enjoyable Thanksgiving day dinner.

Their guests included Mrs. Frank M. Crawford of Iowa, Mr. and Mrs. William Huntington of Eagle Rock, Mrs. Marie Voorhees and son, Dick, and Mrs. Daisie Reed of Long Beach, with Robert and Mary Louise Barrett of the home.

DAUGHTERS PLAN TEA

A tea, the annual Thanksgiving offering affair, is to be hosted in the home of Mrs. E. J. Parker, Yorba street, Tustin, Wednesday at 2 p. m., at which time all Daughters of Union Veterans and their friends are invited to be present. Plans for the tea have been under way for some time.

It was announced that there is to be a reception in the Los Angeles Patriotic hall Tuesday evening, honoring Mrs. Edna Wagner, daughter president of council No. 2. Other officers of the council are to be honored at the same time, and as many local members who are able, are urged to attend.

COLLEGIANS HAVE PICNIC

An enjoyable event participated in by junior collegians Friday was an all-day picnic in the mountains.

In the group were the Misses Audrey Sattler, Eleanor Cogan, Madeline Wells, Phyllis Kogler, Barbara Vorce, Gloria Kirchner, Bettie Timmons, Marion Adams, Lorraine Black and Bette Ann Munson, and Dick Saunders, Bob Davies, Bill Twiss, Bill Wilson, Lynn Arnett, Charles Stafford, Harold Nichols, Lyle Finley, Carol Joy, Glenn Kiser, Clarence Caloway and Frank Wallace.

DINNER CLUB ENTERTAINED

A group of schoolmates met one evening last week for a dinner party, when Miss Barbara Flower entertained the L'Etoile Dining club, preceding the Girls' Ebell dance, at her home.

Those attending were the Misses Carol Brinkerhoff, Marion Kenyon, Katherine Mather, Juanita Hovenden, Jean Conliffe and the hostess.

TURNING GRAY AT THIRTY IS NO CAUSE FOR WORRY

She's just 30 and her hair is turning gray rapidly.

"Why, that's nothing," you might say. "Most of us started turning gray at 30—some of us before that!"

But it is "something" to this young woman and she has become so concerned over it that she is fast becoming a recluse.

I wish I might impress upon her that glowing health, cleanliness, a sense of humor and a kindly disposition are the attributes which make for eternal youth and femininity in a woman, whether she be 30 or 90. These will keep any face beautiful and any heart youthful through the years.

After you have read her letter perhaps some of you can write something to her that will give her confidence and help.

Dear Miss Stoddard: I've read your column each night and I have a problem or a difficulty which I feel sure you can help me with.

I am just 30 years old and my hair is turning gray so rapidly that it will be all white in another year or two. I am very lonely because of this and I stay away from places where people of my own age go because they might think old age is intruding.

It has become an obsession with me. I feel as though I am a misfit because of this grayness. I would like advice from you and your readers, as I am so very lonely. Thanks so much.

THIRTY.

I wish you were sitting right up here in my office. "Thirty," as I write this so we could have a good laugh together about your "obsession." We'd laugh so heartily that you'd forget all about your gray hair, and if you didn't, you'd think it was sort of nice, after all. Obsessions are ugly things, they make hard lines about your mouth and they take the sparkle from your eyes.

Gray hair which is healthy, well cared for and becomingly dressed will make a young face look even more youthful. What the woman of 30 or 35 must keep in mind that growing old "gracefully" starts with her mind. Only those who do grow old gracefully can hope to be nice to have around as well as lovely to look at as the birthdays mount higher and higher past 40.

Better mean, too, developing a better sense of humor—especially if we may define a sense of humor as the ability to laugh at oneself—and finding much fun in very simple things.

Bless your heart, don't shut yourself away from a normal existence with persons of your own age. The way to ignore gray hair is to forget it and you can only forget it when you fill your life full of interests.

I'll be glad to print any replies to you from our readers.

ENGAGED PAIR ARE FETED

Although not formally announced, the engagement of Miss Elizabeth Garlock and Fred Jackson was made known to a group of their friends, when members of the Young People's society of the Christian Alliance church met with Mrs. F. W. Garlock to fete the pair one evening last week.

The affair followed a "cedar-chest" theme, as shower gifts given in the bride-elect were linens. The hostesses for the evening, Miss Esther Hoar, Miss Emma McKenise and Mrs. Basil Underwood, had arranged a kitchen shower for the groom at the same time, making the party serve a double purpose. Games occupied the early part of the evening, with refreshments served at the conclusion.

No date has been set for the wedding of the couple, but it will take place sometime in late spring.

TWO AFFAIRS HOSTESSED IN EVENING

Miss Dorothy Wall and Miss Jean Turner entertained members of the younger set Friday evening preceding and following the Girls' Ebell dance, when the latter received a group in her home, 1240 South Broadway for games and light refreshments early in the evening.

Following the dance, Miss Wall received at a buffet supper at 1235 South Birch street. Her decorations followed the holiday motif, a horn of plenty spilling bright autumn fruits from its mouth, and orange tapers lighting the scene. Festive and yellow hued flowers furthered the color scheme.

Those sharing the pleasant affairs were the Misses Marguerite Alvord, Katherine Stockton, Glenna Jean Dearborn, Helen Rupert, Nancy Stienberger, Margot Ann Risselot, Doris Lorraine Faupel, Jean Turner, and John Woods, Elly Bob McPhee, Jack Givens, Ralph Guldage, Terry Wakeham, Warren McCarthey, Donald Crocker, Dale Bauer, Robert Bogarte.

FINE MUSEUM PRESENTATION WINS PRAISE

A program of such interest yesterday that scores were turned away from Bowers' Memorial museum will be followed by one of even more unique and exceptional merit, perhaps, next Sunday. At that time Cimarron Hathaway, youthful adventurer, author, publisher and newly-appointed director of education of the country of Arabia, will be presented in a lecture on the life and manners of ancient Turkestan, and at the same time, his newest book, "The Seven Questions of Timur," will be released for the first time.

Yesterday found Mrs. F. E. Coulter, curator of the museum, presenting Evalena Nunn Miller, noted artist who was graduated from local schools, and who still regards Santa Ana as her home despite her Los Angeles residence.

Mrs. Miller delighted her audience of over 300 with a preview of her most recent paintings, principally of autumnal scenes in the middle west, and in order to demonstrate the processes of modern art, repeated the construction and actual painting of one of the pictures on display.

Equally delightful on the unusually fine program was the appearance of Earl Fraser, local composer and pianist, who after rendering "The Swan" and "The Ocean," played the lovely "Spinning Girl."

Review of "Dynasty of Death"

By Taylor Caldwell

Courtesy Santa Ana Book Store
208 West Fourth Street

"Dynasty of Death" is one of the most brutal books I have ever read. Although hailed as a great expose of the armament industry, I found this subject, savage enough, completely overshadowed by the characters of the assorted Barbours and Bouchards, industrial giants, who used the medium of armament manufacture to satisfy their greed and lust for power. The story of the two families, their cold-blooded and selfish dealings with one another, their determination to stick together despite their mutual hatred and suspicion, because only together they could achieve success in their undertakings, is a powerful denunciation of the empire building days of the 19th century. It is America at its worst, a sinister picture, but a compelling and fascinating one.

Poets' Corner

By MINA SHAFER

I have gathered these poems from the magazine "Hoofs and Horns" . . . the editor is Ethel A. Hopkins.

Bert Morehouse however lives in Pasadena as near the "open spaces" as he can find.

It is not often we find a cowboy that is a poet, but in the late Charley Russell we found both a poet and a painter of wonderful worth . . . and his pictures of "Westerns" will live.

Charley Russell was an intimate friend of the late Harry Ducket . . . and of him he used to tell, "I slept with Charley for eight months, under a blanket, under the stars at night." And now we could wish them nothing more beautiful than that.

MY OL' COW HOSS

When I'm feelin' kind o' lonely
And jest a little blue,
I know there's one thing only
That I must up and do:
Go get my cowpoke saddle
And snack o' rangin' grub
Then put my legs a-straddle
A homely little cub.

And go a-lopin' out across
The valley on my ol' cow hoss.
Jest the two of us a-ridin'
Somewhere out o' town,
Where no trouble is a-hidin',
Be it up or down.
We take no map or bracin'
Of any cattle trail;
The air is clean and bracin',
Away from every wall.
We're jest two pals without a boss,
When roamin' with my ol' cow hoss.

When the dusk begins a-fallin',
The air a-gittin' damp,
Out where cottonwoods are callin',
We pitch our little camp.
Then I roll up in a wooley,
And sleep so fine and bully,
The campfire near my bed . . .
I wake a-singin' out across
The valley with my ol' cow hoss.

OLD RIDIN' BOOTS

More faithful friends than you, old ridin' boots!
I'm leavin' you beside the coulee trail.
Alone and covered like two mountain quail
Beneath the brush and weeds and tangled grass,
Down where the hosses' feet seldom pass.

No more you'll shine upon my lege each day,
And ride along the cattle's bawlin' way;
No more you'll lightly spurn the dusty ground,
Nor sit with me the camp time fire around.

Good-bye old ridin' boots, so tried and true,
Through many rangeland scenes I've rode with you;
Through summer's burnin' heat and winter's cold . . .
I leave you now as useless, worn and old.

Your tops are limp, your cowhide soles are gone,
You scarcely have a peg to stand upon,
And those two ridin' heels, you sure must know,
I busted off bulldoggin' at the show.

So long old kickers, I must pass you by,
May coulee posies blossom where you lie;
For I will never find in range pursuits
More faithful friends than you, old ridin' boots!

Joseph Barbour was an upper servant when in 1837 he brought his family from England to the ugly new town of Windsor, Pa., where his brother was already engaged in the manufacture of firearms. In partnership with the Bouchards, French exiles, they specialized in hunting rifles, had no further aim than to provide a comfortable living for their respective families. But they reckoned without Joseph's son Ernest, who cold and incalculable, even at the age of 14, had plans ruthless enough to steel mills or coal mines in her dowry. As he employed agents and their insidious propaganda to stir hatred among nations, so, on a smaller scale, he played upon the emotions of his family and business associates to attain situations to his own advantage.

Of the 40 odd members of the dynasty there were only three who dared stand up to Ernest. His brother Martin spent his share of the estate endowing a hospital for the workmen, imported from Europe to a virtual slavery in the mines and factories. One son, Reginald, sought salvation in an Amenity settlement, and another son became a composer. The others openly feared and hated Ernest, but averted for the enormous profits pouring in from a hundred different enterprises, all lying around the head of the empire.

Although Ernest's own sons deserted the colors, there were nephews and grandsons left at his death to carry on the dynasty. It is not only their nefarious business which threatens all humanitarian ideas, but their methods, their conniving, their sweeping disregard of all loyalty and sentiment. So real, so vital are Mr. Caldwell's characters that these families, these Barbours and Bouchards, who sank so low, and went to such despicable ends to obtain their wealth, seem a living menace. One wonders if they are drawn from actual families.

McKELVEY MAY NOT RETURN TO SHERIFF JOB

Whether G. F. McKelvey, deputy sheriff suspended when he became implicated in the "Fools Rush In" pamphlet case, would be reinstated for the rest of this term remained unanswered today, as Sheriff Logan Jackson declined comment.

"I have nothing to say," said Jackson today. "I haven't had time to go into it."

Jackson, ill since before Thanksgiving, said he would decide later whether to return McKelvey to active duty now that the criminal conspiracy charges against the deputy have been dismissed for lack of evidence in superior court.

Dist. Atty. W. F. Menton moved for and obtained the dismissal from Superior Judge G. K. Scovel Friday afternoon, after McKelvey and Distributor Eddie Taylor, a co-defendant, had prepared to ask a writ of habeas corpus on grounds they were held from justice court on insufficient evidence. The writ had been prepared and an order for it signed when Menton made the motion for dismissal.

McKelvey was suspended by Jackson at the same time a special grand jury was called to investigate the defamatory election pamphlet. The deputy, testimony in the preliminary hearing showed, withdrew from the Los Angeles district attorney's office in preparation of a second pamphlet, which was ordered and paid for by the same man who ordered "Fools Rush In."

GERMANS WILL DEMONSTRATE PLANE TO JAPS

BERLIN. (AP)—A fast four-motored Focke-Wulf Condor plane took off today for Tokyo with a crew of five and one passenger, to show the Japanese especially Japan, Germany's latest achievements in airplane building.

With only three stops scheduled en route—at Basra, Iraq; Karachi, India, and Hanoi, French Indo-China—it was expected the entire distance of 9300 miles would be covered in from 50 to 55 hours.

Lufthansa officials, however, declared no record would be sought. They said the flight was intended to return the visit of Japan's "Divine Wind" which flew here in April, 1937.

But no secret was made of that fact Japan has been negotiating for purchase of German commercial planes, for which reason the big Condor was chosen to show it.

Officials said it would return by way of Batavia, capital of the Netherlands East Indies, and Amsterdam to show the Royal Dutch air line that its time of six days between those points can be lowered to four.

The Germans may make a side trip to Manchoukuo, where purchase of German planes also is being negotiated.

Girl Scouts Plan Craft Shop Dec. 3

Saturday morning, from 9 until 11, a craft shop class will be conducted at the Girl Scout Little House, 606 North Parton street. The shop will be open again on Dec. 10, 17, 19, 20, 21, 22 and 23, at the same hours.

Instruction in cork, copper, clay, needle, bead and other crafts will be provided for the Scouts. From the advance registration, some 50 girls are expected to be working in the shop. The only cost to the girl is that of the material she uses. Most projects will cost 10 and 15 cents. The girls are asked to bring the money for their materials with them on Dec. 3.

Many girls will be taking advantage of this opportunity to make their Christmas gifts.

EAST CLEAR, COLD AFTER TWO BLIZZARDS

By the Associated Press

Clear weather but cold settled over the eastern half of the country today in the wake of a double-barreled, two blizzard "sneak" preview of the 1938 edition of winter.

Sub-freezing temperatures were general as far south as Georgia and as far west as Kansas City. On top of the hard crust of ice and snow from the Thanksgiving blizzard lay anywhere from one to five inches of fresh week-end snow. In Virginia, where the total snowfall last year was only 1.7 inches, 7½ inches of snow was on the ground.

New England dug out from five inches that pelted down in the second storm. New York only got about two inches, but New York City reckoned its snow removal cost at a million dollars already.

Relief parties drove and tramped through the woods of northern Maine to rescue 100 marooned hunters. Several new weather casualties were reported—a fisherman apparently lost at sea off Nantucket Island, Mass.; a man frozen near Charleston, W. Va.; a victim of a heart attack due to snow shovelling at Buffalo, N. Y.

In general, there were few auto accidents as motorists kept off ice-crusted highways.

Railroad and airplane schedules were not seriously disrupted.

NAZIS ARREST MORE JEWS

BERLIN. (AP)—Jewish quarters said today they had evidence from various parts of Germany that arrests of Jews were continuing. Many who stayed away from home during the big arrest wave in the anti-Jewish drive which followed the killing of Ernst vom Rath by a young Jew in Paris, now are being quietly rounded up, the sources said.

Word also came from the Nazi-dominated free city of Danzig of large scale raids in search of Jews within the last few days.

All Jewish boarding houses, hotels and homes in Danzig, Zoppot and Oliva were said to have been searched. It was reported that Jews who could not prove they had regular employment or who could not produce passports were pushed across the border of neighboring Poland.

New Pictures of Hitler Show Him Wearing Glasses

BERLIN. (AP)—New pictures recently have acquainted the German public with the fact that Reichsfuehrer Hitler, who was almost blinded during the World War, now wears glasses on occasion.

His eyes are an important asset to Hitler, and recently he has taken measures to protect them. Beginning with the pictures of the signing of the Munich accord of Sept. 29, he has been shown wearing glasses.

But the Fuehrer still goes without glasses in public. His followers say much of his influence is based on the almost hypnotic affect of his glance.

LEGALITY OF WEDDING ISSUE IN WILL FIGHT

Contentions by Julia N. Smith and Bernard Newman that their brother, John William Newman, was not legally married to the woman who now is sole heir to his $60,000 estate were battered today by testimony in superior court.

Superior Judge H. G. Ames, hearing trial of a contest by the sister and brother of Mr. Newman's will, heard evidence that H. W. Smith, Mrs. Catherine Newman's first husband, was not living at the time she married Mr. Newman in 1923, but had died in a fall in San Francisco Aug. 14, 1908.

Mrs. Ruth S. Whidden of Reno, daughter of Mrs. Newman by her first husband, was called as a witness by the contestants to testify that Mr. Newman took pain-killing capsules shortly before his death in 1937.

Mrs. Smith and Bernard Newman are attempting to prove Mr. Newman was incapable of making a valid will and was unduly influenced by his wife and her daughter.

'Fatal Injuries' Merely Is Paint

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—Fireman William J. Denne yesterday was rushed, "bleeding to death," to a doctor's office by colleagues fighting a filling station fire.

The doctor wiped Denne's face with a towel and sent him back to his fire fighting.

A can of red paint had exploded in the fireman's face.

CONGRESSMAN CALLED HEAD OF RED GROUP

WASHINGTON. (AP)—House investigators received testimony today that Representative-Elect Vito Marcantonio of New York "is the presiding head of the International Labor Defense," which was described as a "Communist front organization."

The testimony came from Sam Baron of New York, appearing before the Dies committee investigating un-American activities.

Baron said the ILD had sponsored a meeting in Jersey City, N. J., last year at which Representatives O'Connell (D., Mont.) and Bernard (F.-L., Minn.) were to have spoken in protest against alleged circumvention of civil rights in the city.

He said the organization "stuck its foot in the water, found it too hot, and ran."

"Vito Marcantonio," Baron asserted, "is the presiding head of the International Labor Defense." "You are certain that it is a Communist front organization?" asked Chairman Dies (D., Tex.).

"There is no doubt whatsoever," the witness replied.

Marcantonio, a former congressman, was elected to congress Nov. 8 on the Republican and American Labor party tickets, defeating the incumbent, Representative Lanzetta, a Democrat.

The two congressmen, O'Connell and Bernard, went to Jersey City, and then decided not to make their speeches, on the advice of the ILD.

Baron resigned from the Socialist party, he said, in order to appear before the Dies committee as an individual only.

Chairman Dies announced he would ask the new house to appropriate $200,000 to continue for two years his committee's investigation.

Before the hearing began, Dies told reporters the committee was not interested in obtaining testimony from Gypsy Rose Lee, former burlesque star, who had offered to "bare all" about the Communist activities in Hollywood. He said that the committee had asked several persons from the coast to testify in a few days, including Detective Capt. John J. Keegan of Portland, Ore. It was understood that Keegan's testimony would concern Harry Bridges, West coast CIO leader.

CHINESE CLAIM HEAVY DAMAGE TO FOE DEPOTS

SHANGHAI. (AP)—Chinese today reported they had inflicted heavy damage, through fires and explosions, to Japanese arsenals and munitions plants in China.

A huge arsenal at Mukden, Manchoukuo, was said to have been wrecked by a mysterious fire and explosion Nov. 20.

In addition to destruction of large amounts of munitions and aircraft, 200 Japanese and other workmen were said to have been killed and 60 Japanese military guards injured.

A second Japanese arsenal, Chinese reported, was blown up two days ago at Taiyuan, in Shansi Province, killing 300 Japanese soldiers and workmen.

Meanwhile, foreign apprehension over Japan's future course in China was heightened by Japanese construction of a huge military base near Woosung, at the mouth of the Whangpoo river downstream from Shanghai.

Japanese were said to be rebuilding the devastated town into a military defense base, with barracks for 20,000 men, an airport, an armaments suitable for 12-inch guns.

Japanese report work is underway on a vast industrial and shipping zone along the river between Woosung and Shanghai. All foreigners have been barred from the area.

DAY OFFICIALS STEP IN NEW COUNTY ISSUE

Newly-elected county and state officials here were puzzling today over the moment they take office, following receipt of an opinion from Atty. Gen. U. S. Webb on the subject.

According to Webb's opinion, newly-elected county officers will take office at noon Jan. 2, despite the fact that day is a holiday.

State officers, including superior judges, technically take office at midnight Jan. 1, although they can perform no judicial acts until Jan. 3, first day after the new year which is not a legal holiday.

County Clerk B. J. Smith said today he was urging new officials to obtain their certificates of election, post bond and qualify before the New Year's day holiday, so they automatically can take office at the first legal moment and thus prevent the county from being without a sheriff or district attorney for even a few hours.

LEGALLY DEAD, MAN RE-WEDS SECOND WIFE

PASADENA. (AP)—Davis R. McDonald, legally dead for several years, married Ethel May Ellis of New Orleans today in a ceremony duplicating their wedding 14 years ago.

McDonald, a Pittsburgh broker, deserted his first wife in 1924, leaving a note for her and their daughter saying he was ending his life. The same year he married Miss Ellis, who knew nothing of his previous life until he was arrested recently for forgery and identified through war service fingerprints. He had been using the name, John Edgar Davis.

McDonald's third wedding was made possible by a decision of Superior Judge Frank Collier, placing him on three years' probation on the condition he write no checks in that time. McDonald also met the demand of the court he have a bona fide offer of employment.

Judge Collier said McDonald's past life had nothing to do with the probation, and that the chief requisite was full restitution of the $141 worthless checks and assurance McDonald had employment so that he could support his second wife and their two children.

The first Mrs. McDonald has remarried. She also collected on McDonald's war risk insurance and two other insurance policies after the courts adjudged him legally dead.

McDonald's lawyer said the former broker would take a selling job with a foot-exerciser machinery concern in Los Angeles.

JUDGE ILL, TRIAL WAITS

Illness of Superior Judge James L. Allen today forced continuance of the Charley Calhoun murder trial to Wednesday morning.

Calhoun, 28, former Oklahoma convict, has been on trial nearly two weeks on a charge of murdering Cyde Dilling, his 30-year-old stepfather, last June 26 in Midway City.

Judge Allen was confined to his home by an attack of "flu," court attaches reported; and jurors and witnesses were sent home with orders to appear again Wednesday. Superior Judge Raymond McIntosh of Sierra county, who sat here for several weeks this summer, was presiding in Judge Allen's court today to hear motions for new trials in old cases.

QUET TITLE SUIT

Asking a court decree quieting title to a 16-foot street easement in the Rogers addition to Laguna Beach, the city of Laguna Beach today filed suit against C. C. Wiggins and 17 other defendants who assertedly hold interests in the property.

MOTORISTS PAY $41 IN FINES

Fines totaling $41 for traffic violations dropped into the coffers of Santa Ana city court Saturday when six motorists were fined by Judge J. G. Mitchell.

Fined for speeding were Alfred J. De Loge, 710 West Fifth street, $15; William A. Nichols, 1325 Custer street, $10, and George M. Mensie, Pomona, $8. Running over a fire hose cost J. W. Taylor of Santa Ana $5.

For overtime parking, Earl F. McAndrews, Anaheim, paid a $2 fine and Glen Kuhn, Santa Ana, paid a $1 fine.

INCENTIVE TAX ADVOCATED BY G. E. PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Gerard Swope, president of the General Electric company, told a senate committee today he believed government must adopt some form of incentive taxation if it hoped to induce industry to stabilize employment through an annual wage.

The gray-haired industrial leader testified he "hoped" profit-sharing with employees was "good business," but added "I don't know it."

Swope said his company had paid out approximately $100,000 in shared profits to 60,000 employees during the last 22 years.

Senator Herring (D., Iowa), chairman of a special senate profit-sharing committee, asked Swope if his company had experienced any strikes or other labor trouble.

The scant audience at the hearing burst into laughter as Swope replied: "Not yet."

Swope agreed with Hanford MacNider, former minister to Canada, who had testified briefly that industrial profit-sharing plans should be geared to the rise and fall of profits in order to make employees doubly conscious of their company's condition.

MacNider, president of the Northwestern States Portland Cement Company of Mason City, Iowa, told the committee he was opposed to incentive taxation and urged complete repeal of the undivided profits tax, asserting such action would provide a surer incentive for business expansion.

MacNider said he did not believe in either incentive or punitive taxation.

"Well," interposed Senator Vandenberg (R., Mich.), "you get the punitive taxation whether you believe in it or not."

MacNider insisted, however, incentive taxation might develop a trend among employers toward lowering wages to a minimum so they could charge, for tax purposes, as large an amount as possible toward profit-sharing.

Swope said he thought the undivided profits tax had been wisely amended by congress in the last session, when little more than the form of the tax was left in the revised tax law.

This has operated to "earmark" earnings for plant expansion, thus providing more capital for business and more jobs for labor, he said.

DISTILLERY LEADER DIES

NEW YORK. (AP)—Sanford Jacobi, 59, for many years a leading figure in the distillery industry, died today. He was one of the founders of the Schenley Distillers corporation.

A process for making synthetic resin articles luminous has been patented by the Schenley Distillers corporation.

A wise man once said there are two ways to save money: "Increase your income, or cut down your outgo."

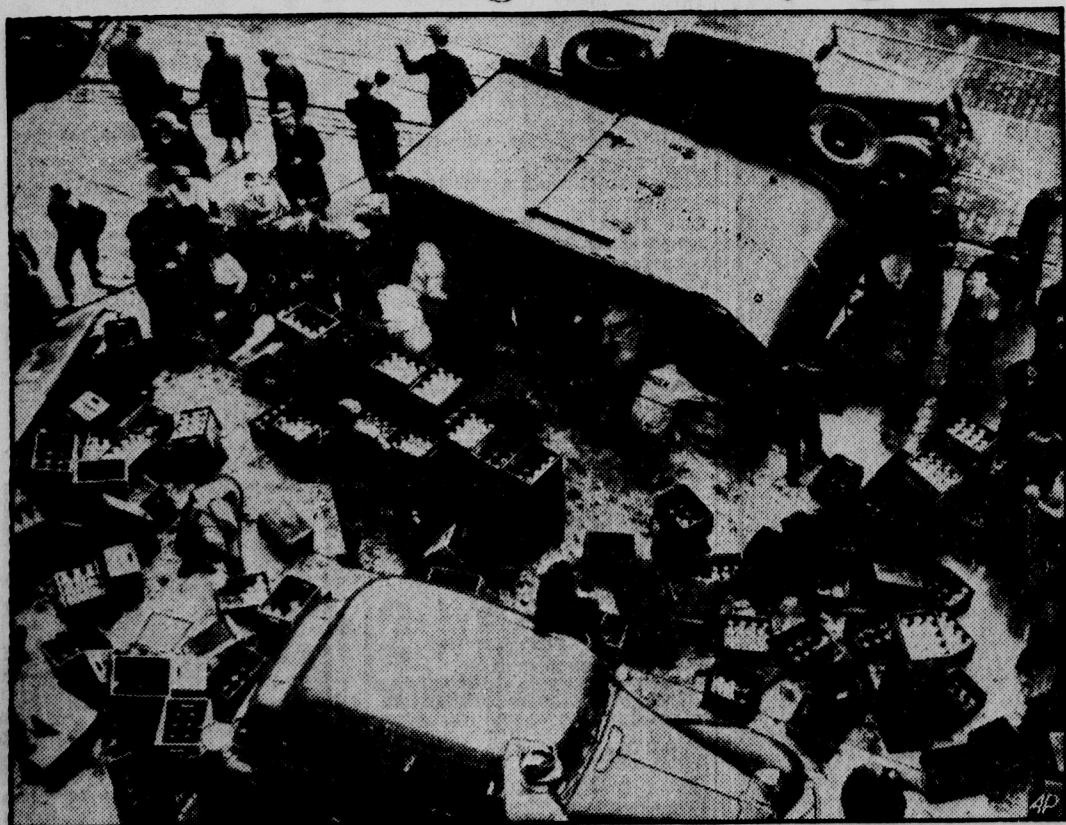

Much as we'd like to, few of us can regulate the amount of money we take in each week. But all of us have control over what we spend. And many a family bank account has been made possible by careful spending.

That's why it will pay you to read the advertisements in this newspaper. Day after day they show you where to get the things you need . . . where to get the fullest dollar's worth for every dollar you spend.

A careful reading of the advertisements . . . today, tomorrow, and every day after . . . will help you to do something that we'd all like to do:

Buy what you want—and have money left over!

Here's Something Worth Crying Over

The old axiom has to be disregarded when you've spilled as much milk as this, which happened in a freak Chicago accident when a big milk truck overturned spilling broken milk bottles and cases in all directions. The driver, who may have left like shedding a few tears, was not hurt.

Senator Steps Up, M'Callen Moves In, 'Tis Said

BY FRANK ORR

The guess may be haywire, but a few political observers close to the state government scene are thinking that State Sen. Harry Westover of Santa Ana may be elected to a more lucrative state job when the Olson administration steps in.

They also think there's a chance that M. M. McCallen, young Huntington Beach mayor, might be appointed in Westover's place.

CLOSE TO OLSON

The first half of the guess makes sense all the way around. Westover's present job is a nice sort of distinction, but at $1200 a year almost any legislator loses money. There also are reports that some of the Democrats are planning to build a fire under Westover, come election time in 1940, and might get busy to defeat him for re-nomination. Republicans, too, are known to be gunning for Westover's scalp, and hope to pull a candidate out of the hat well enough known and liberal enough to recapture the senate seat formerly held by N. T. Edwards of Orange.

Westover is close enough to Government-elect Culbert Olson to make an appointment a reasonable sort of thing. Olson will have a healthy basket of political plums to pass out when he takes office, and in order to woo traditionally Republican Orange county he may scatter quite a few in this direction.

MCCALLEN SHOWS SKILL

The McCallen rumor may be entirely wrong—and if it's right, there is a possibility of great gnashing of teeth among Democrats who have been wheelhorses around here longer.

The young mayor, however, would be considered a smart choice and a good one. Two years ago he was just a very wealthy oil man, with no place in government. Then he ran for city council in Huntington Beach, was elected by the greatest majority ever given a council candidate there, and was respectfully made mayor. Since then he has shown a lot of ability.

"TOO BIG FOR COUNTY"

McCallen is an important contributor to the Democratic campaign, too. He is wealthy enough to be able to put in the required time—and probably more, too, if he follows the example he's set as mayor—without having to cut public business short to go after bread and butter.

One editor close to McCallen said last week that the Huntington Beach mayor was getting too big for Orange county, or words to that effect, which may be prophetic. Some months ago McCallen's friends poo-phooed the idea that he'd want to get into politics. Other men have said that, though, and found that government's a fascinating sort of thing. Lots of them stay on and on.

Theater Blast in Rumania Laid to Anti-Jewish Plot

BUDAPEST, (AP)—Reports from the Rumanian city of Temisoara (Temesvar) today attributed a theater blast there to anti-Jewish agitation.

One dispatch said ten persons were killed and more than 40 wounded in an explosion yesterday while a company of Jewish actors was giving a performance. Temisoara is in the Banat region of Rumania where there recently have been political disturbances and anti-Semitic demonstrations.

Tustin Driver to Be Tried Dec. 15

Albert L. Eastman, 40, Tustin, rancher, will be tried on a drunk driving charge by a jury in Santa Ana justice court Dec. 15.

Justice of the Peace Kenneth Morrison set the trial date today after the case was transferred from Tustin justice court on demand of the defendant. Eastman was arrested by highway patrolmen Aug. 17 at 101 highway and Red Hill avenue.

When You Buy Christmas Toys Keep In Mind The Child's Age

By LYDIA GRAY SHAW
AP Feature Service Writer

THOSE toys under the Christmas tree can be a big help to the development of the child who gets them, and also "just the thing he wanted"—if they have been chosen with a little thought.

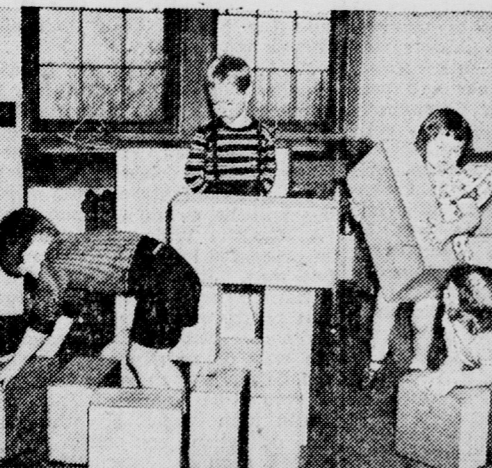

The play possibilities of the various age levels should be considered all the way. Lightweight toys in bright colors are a good bet for the youngest.

The two-to-four age group, learning to coordinate eye and muscles, can get some help from large and simple toys along the building line. Improved coordination allows more complex toys in the next level.

At the six-to-eight level, girls turn more to dolls and handicraft; boys take up scientific toys, model building, and trains.

There's a tendency to pick up hobbies in the eight-ten level. Weaving, drawing and embroidery are popular with girls. Boys like trains and chemical sets.

Here are a few tips for choosing toys

Two To Four Years

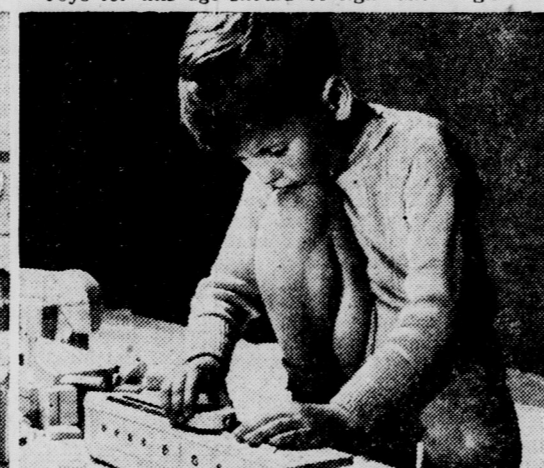

Infancy To Two Years

Walking in the early stages of the game is a young fellow's toughest job. He probably would appreciate something to help him at the task. Toys for this age should be light and bright.

Two To Four Years

Four To Six Years

Construction and handicraft sets, not too complicated, are enjoyed in this bracket. Girls like toys with which they can imitate adult house-keeping. Boys favor industrial activity in miniature. Easy "put-together" boats are fun.

Six To Eight Years

Eight To Ten Years

Coordination greatly advanced, children turn to hobby interests. Weaving for girls, carpentry for boys are examples.

LOTTERY TRIAL EXPECTED TO LAST 2 WEEKS

A two-week legal battle over evidence in an asserted $5,000,000 lottery ticket conspiracy was in sight today, as Police Chief Floyd Howard of Santa Ana, Ernest Winbigler and a half dozen other defendants prepared for trial beginning tomorrow.

Federal district court in Los Angeles, where an indictment charging conspiracy to smuggle lottery tickets into the United States from Mexico was returned in January, 1938, will be scene of the trial.

S. B. Kaufman of Anaheim, who will represent Howard Winbigler, C. W. Hutchings of Balboa and Charles Ross and Harold Vondre of Los Angeles, estimated the trial would last two weeks. He will be joined by Joe C. Burke of Santa Ana, former United States district attorney, and Russell Graham, former assistant to Burke in that office, as defense counsel.

The Mexican lottery, tickets of which were seized in Southern California late in 1936, was based on the Christmas day handicap of that year at Santa Anita race track. Thirty-five men originally were indicted, but it was understood several have not been apprehended and one or two others may be called as witnesses on behalf of the government.

Sardine Fishermen Land 10-Ton Shark

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—Capt. Chris Janguard and his crew of fishermen cast their net 40 miles south of here but didn't haul in their first catch as promptly as usual. In fact, it took seven hours to get their net in.

They had tried for sardines—had landed a 10-ton 30-foot shark.

L. A. Woman Dies, Brought to Life, Then Dies Again

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—Arrangements were being made today to send the body of Mrs. Mildred Gross, 28, who died, returned to life and then died again, to Salt Lake City for burial.

Mrs. Gross died in a police receiving hospital early Saturday after taking an overdose of sedatives. Her husband, Jacob Gross, told police his wife took 150 sleeping tablets. Mrs. Gross apparently was dead when she reached the hospital, but after injections of picrotoxin, a new and powerful stimulant, her respiration became normal. She never regained consciousness and died a few hours later.

She also is survived by two sons, 11 and 12 years of age.

Unemployment in Nation Declines

NEW YORK, (AP)—The national industrial conference board, sponsored by private industrial corporations, estimated today that the nation's unemployment in October dropped 2.3 per cent from the September figure, but that 9,026,000 were unemployed in October as compared to 6,277,000 in October, 1937.

The board said building construction, a leader in the general business improvement, provided jobs for 111,000 additional workers in October over September of this year and that all other branches of industry also showed month-to-month employment gains. Employment declined only in agriculture, forestry and fishing.

EX-CHAPLAIN OF PRISON TO SPEAK IN S. A.

The Town Meeting will consider the problems involved in rehabilitating the criminal Tuesday night when a former chaplain of Joliet State Penitentiary speaks on "Inside Prison Walls."

A. W. Hamilton, who is at present making a social index and managing the youth activities of the Los Angeles co-ordinating council, has had long experience with problems of juvenile and adult crime. The Pasadena Big Brother movement grew out of his work with boys who were wards of the Juvenile Court and the Crime Prevention Bureau of Pasadena.

During the three years he was engaged in this work he ran two summer camps for boys, and he organized the Pasadena Foundation which sponsors the Pasadena Boys' club.

Mr. Hamilton was a Methodist minister in his early years, and served the Illinois State Penitentiary as its chaplain, introducing a system of prison education while there. After some years of practical business experience, he turned to the field of sociology and has been active in city, state and federal agencies for better citizenship. During the month of November he filled the pulpit of the local Unitarian church with a series of addresses on "Religion's Responsibility to a New World Order."

The Town Meeting convenes at 7:45 o'clock, at the Unitarian church, Eighth and Bush. The sessions are open to the public.

3 BOYS CONFESS KIDNAPING OF SANTA ANA TAXI DRIVER

POPULATION OF COUNTY UP 13% SINCE CENSUS

Orange county's population today is nearly four times as great as it was in 1910 and more than twice its size in 1920.

It increased 15,000, or 13 per cent, since the last federal census in 1930.

These figures were revealed today in a study of population of California counties just completed by the California Taxpayers' association.

The population of Orange county at the beginning of 1938 was estimated at 133,700 in the survey. Census figures in 1930 were 118,674, more than double the 1920 census estimate of 61,375, which in turn was almost double the 1910 figure of 34,436.

Population here has grown less than the state average, the association revealed. Number of persons in the entire state at the end of this year was estimated at 6,940,000, an increase of 22 per cent over the 1930 census of 5,677,251 persons—or an estimated 2.3 per cent increase compounded annually during the present decade. California's population, the association reported, is increasing at a rate higher than the national average, due to migration here during the past few years.

DEADLINE NEAR FOR J. C. POST

Contributions were being received today for publication in Tavern Post, Santa Ana junior college literary magazine, according to Editor Herschel Albrecht.

With the deadline to be set this week, students are turning in original works for the publication. Poetry, prose, and short stories are included in the Post which is published by Tavern Tattlers, literary society.

Many prizes are offered for the best material included in the magazine. The Robert L. Brown poetry prize, Joseph Langland poetry award, and the Tavern Tattlers prose award are the chief ones given.

The Post is printed in the college Fine Arts Press under the direction of Thomas E. Williams. Faculty advisor of the publication is T. H. Glenn, head of the English department.

ANNUAL DINNER PLANS DRAWN

Committees have been appointed to make arrangements for the annual Christmas dinner of the Sons and Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War which will be held in the M. W. A. hall Friday, Dec. 9.

Commander Perry Grout made the appointments. He named W. L. Davis, C. F. Bratton, Roy N. Pollock to assist the Daughters in arranging for the dinner.

Last Friday, the organization held its regular monthly pot-luck and social evening in the M. W. A. hall. Ella V. Smith, president of the local tent, was in charge. She was assisted by Anna Cozad, Nellie Parker, and Elizabeth Miller. C. E. Bratton of the camp was in charge of entertainment.

THREE CHARGES

The three youths were arraigned before Justice of the Peace Kenneth Morrison this morning. Preliminary hearing was set for Dec. 5 at 9 a. m. Bail was set at $5000 each.

The defendants were arraigned on three counts—robbery, kidnaping and driving an automobile without the owner's consent.

Neighbor's Vigilance Saves Santa Ana Couple, Overcome By Gas Leaking From Stove

Vigilance of a neighbor today had saved the lives of an elderly Santa Ana couple found lying on the floor of their home, overcome by gas fumes which leaked from a stove.

They are Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Sidnam, 517 South Parton street, who are recovering today at St. Joseph hospital where they were rushed following emergency respiratory treatment by the fire department's inhalator squad.

Police said a defective stove, allowing gas fumes to escape, was responsible for the near-strategy. As the windows had been closed, none of the fumes could escape from the room and the couple was quickly overcome, police said.

Police said Mrs. Arthur Koepsel, wife of Attorney Koepsel and the next-door neighbor to the Sidnams, saved their lives when she went to their home shortly before 7 p. m. last night.

Mrs. Koepsel said she knew they had not been feeling well for the past few days, and that they had not been seen around the house that afternoon.

Looking in the window of their home, Mrs. Koepsel saw Mr. and Mrs. Sidnam lying unconscious on the floor. She opened windows, turned off the stove, called the inhalator squad and a physician.

The gas fumes would have proved fatal had the couple been discovered a few minutes later, according to police.

Attaches at St. Joseph hospital said Mr. and Mrs. Sidnam are not in serious condition and that they are recovering rapidly. They are expected to be released from the hospital within a few days.

THREE WOMEN FALL FROM AUTO WHEN TRYING TO SLOW DRIVER

A practice session for a Christmas play in Stanton ended on a comic-opera note yesterday afternoon, when deputy sheriffs found three women had tumbled out of a car after trying to make its driver slow down.

The way Deputy Sheriffs Frank Cagle, Harvey Gulick and A. W. Fullerton heard the story was this: Alvina and Angela Romero, sisters, and their mother, Mrs. Erin Lind Romero, were practicing a Christmas play along with William Diaz. Finished with rehearsal, they started home, with Diaz driving.

Diaz, said the sisters, pushed the accelerator to the floorboard of his car. The auto speeded up. Its passengers became frightened.

Diaz, they said, wouldn't slow down. Mrs. Diaz switched off the ignition key, Angela grabbed the emergency brake and Alvina pressed the door handle. The three tumbled out, landing on their heads. They were given first aid treatment.

WORK STARTED ON J. C. BOOK

Departmental editors of Del Amo, Santa Ana Junior College yearbook, today were gathering material in preparation for publication of the book which is slated to appear at the end of next semester.

Editor Carroll Richardson revealed that page make-up and lay-outs are nearing completion. The art work is being done by art classes under direction of Miss Lucinda Griffith, newly appointed advisor, who replaces Miss Frances Egge.

The book's staff consists of Richardson; Betty Frye, assistant editor; Tom Powell, faculty editor; Clara Westerman, sophomore editor; Audrey Barnes and Aloin Miller, departmental editors; Marjorie Vollmer, organization editor; Morris Cohen, men's sports editor; Ruth Lehnhardt, women's sports editor; Josephine Butler, art editor; Margie Lee Brown and Leigh Birkeland, layout editors. Don Hart is business manager.

The photographic staff is composed of Bob Notley and Joe Thompson. Informal campus pictures will be used throughout the publication, Richardson said.

2 HOMES AND SHOP ENTERED

Two homes and a bicycle shop were looted over the week-end, Santa Ana police reported today.

Theft of a revolver, and other articles valued at $32 was reported by Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Hammer, 1201 South Birch street.

Police believe the same intruder entered the home of R. S. Tathwell, 416 Borchard street, Saturday night when a revolver, personal papers and some jewelry was stolen.

A bicycle valued at $36.50 was stolen from the shop of Andy Pico at 1202 South Main street, police said.

3 HURT WHEN AUTOS COLLIDE

Three persons, one a 76-year-old man, suffered minor injuries Saturday afternoon in a collision of automobiles at East First and Cedar streets, Santa Ana, police reported.

The cars were driven by T. D. Forney, 76, 1103 West Eighth street, and Gerald Willard Stratton, 2603 Oak street, police said. Injured were Forney, who suffered shock and a bruise on the left knee; Bruce Cook, 7, who had two upper front teeth knocked out; and Mrs. Wade Cook, 42, 1107 East Eighth, who suffered shock.

They were given first aid treatment.

TRIO IN JAIL 3 HOURS AFTER STEALING AUTO

They were broke and needed money . . . so they decided to get a fast taxi to "pull a job" . . . so they kidnaped a taxi driver and took his machine.

But three hours later they were in the county jail facing charges of kidnaping and burglary.

The rapid-fire sequence of events was related by Santa Ana police officers today following the arrest last night of three Newport youths for allegedly kidnaping and robbing Jack Baker, 22, driver for the Broadway Cab company, and stealing his taxi.

SPEEDY CAPTURE

Arrested and booked at the county jail were George William Russell, 23, Joe Gaddis, 19, and his cousin, Lester Gaddis, 18. They told police they had been living in Newport Beach for the past few weeks.

The taxi was stolen at 9 p. m. and shortly after midnight the three youths were under arrest and had signed confessions, according to reports of Police Officers Zimmerman, Flower, Neilson and Lane.

According to the asserted confessions, the following occurred: CALLED FOR CAB

The youths phoned for a cab from an inn at Fourth and Birch about 9 p. m., told Cab Driver Jack Baker they wanted to go to Fullerton.

A short way out of Santa Ana, Russell jammed a gun in Baker's ribs, made him stop the car and get in the back seat. Three dollars in cash was taken from Baker.

They drove "somewhere on the other side of Fullerton," made Baker get out in an orange grove and drove away.

Arriving at Knott's berry farm, where they assertedly planned a hold-up, Russell said, "I don't like this, and the others agreed. So they came back to Santa Ana. They said they intended to 'leave the car close to the taxi office.'"

RADIO BROADCAST

Baker, however, had walked to the Fullerton police station and reported his kidnaping. A radio broadcast was put out, and in a few minutes after the three men returned to Santa Ana in the taxi-cab, they were arrested by Santa Ana police at 822 North Broadway after a short chase.

By 12:50 a. m. all three of the youths had assertedly made full written confessions to police.

Joe Gaddis said that sometime last week "we kinda talked over about doing a job." The youths said they were broke. Joe also said in his confession that my cousin, (Lester Gaddis) and I had never pulled a job before."

ROBT. IRWIN SENTENCED TO 134-YEAR TERM

NEW YORK. (AP)—Robert Irwin, eccentric young sculptor who pleaded guilty to the 1937 Easter morning triple-slaying of Veronica Gideon, attractive model; her mother, and Frank Byrnes, a boarder, was sentenced to 13 years in state's prison today by Judge James G. Wallace.

Trial of Irwin, specifically for the murder of Byrnes, was interrupted by Irwin's guilty plea before the jury was completed. He pleaded guilty to second degree murder. Irwin's lawyer, Samuel Leibowitz, in offering the plea told the court the sculptor was "crazy as a bed-bug."

Four husky attendants surrounded Irwin as he was led into the courtroom today. Standing before the bar, he made a futile plea to be heard before sentence was pronounced.

"This asking a prisoner whether he has anything to say before sentence is just a farce," cried Irwin. "I have something to say."

"You say you represent justice," he shouted at Judge Wallace. "I say you do not. You represent a

PHOENIX GIVEN WORST BEATING BY THE DONS

When San Bernardino's Eastern conference champions rolled to a 43-0 victory over Phoenix Jaycees in Arizona Saturday, they made an impressive showing, but did not set a scoring record.

Back in 1930 the Santa Ana Dons massacred the Phoenix outfit, 56 to 0, which stands 13 points better than the San Bernardino rout. Riverside also has registered large football scores against Phoenix.

Phoenix does much better against the Californians in basketball.

THREE TEAMS IN LINE FOR ROSE BOWL BID

Texas Christian, Tennessee and Duke!

Those three teams stand out as the clubs most likely to receive the bid to the Rose Bowl to play the West's representative—which will be the U. S. C. Trojans.

Duke protected its remarkable record of being unbeaten, untied and unscored upon by defeating Pittsburgh, 7-0, Saturday. . . . The Blue Devils certainly deserve to play in one of the bowls—Rose, Cotton, Sugar or Sun.

Texas Christian, which won the Southwest conference title by outclassing Southern Methodist, 20-7, Saturday, is the popular choice of many fans. . . . The Horned Frogs, with their all-American candidate, David O'Brien, would put on a real show at Pasadena. . . . O'Brien is hailed as a greater passer than Sammy Baugh. . . . in 10 games this year O'Brien hurled 167 passes, completing 93 of them for 1509 yards and 19 touchdowns. . . . Texas Christian already has gone on record as favoring the trip to Pasadena. . . . The Horned Frogs voted in this order: 1, Rose bowl; 2, Sugar bowl; 3, Cotton bowl.

EL DON SPORTS EDITOR RECEIVES A SOUVENIR

An unpleasant souvenir from the Santa Ana-Fullerton "Turkey Day" football classic was received by Tom Powell, sports editor of El Don, S. A. J. C. weekly publication.

Tom was in the stands watching the students swarm around the goal posts after the game, and an unidentified fan, for apparently no reason at all, took a lusty swing at Tom's jaw. The blow buried his teeth in the outside of his lower lip, cutting a deep ridge and sending him to a physician.

I wonder what Tom will have to say in his column this week.

Monty Stratton Hurt In Pistol Accident

WHITE SOX'S ACE PITCHER LOST FOR '39

DALLAS. (AP)—Chance, which zoomed Monty Stratton from semi-pro baseball to major league stardom in four years, today apparently doomed him to the sidelines with the accidental discharge of a pistol.

Stratton, the Chicago White Sox ace pitcher, is "pretty certain" to lose his right leg, Dr. A. R. Thomasson said.

The leg was shattered yesterday when a pistol accidentally discharged in a holster at the right-hander's side while he was hunting rabbits on his mother's farm near Greenville. The bullet cut into his leg, severing a large blood vessel behind his knee.

Monty, only 25, crawled almost to the farmhouse before one of his brothers found him.

Dr. Thomasson gave Stratton a blood transfusion to "build him up somewhat" and said he would decide within 36 hours whether amputation would be necessary. The hurler was reported "resting fairly well."

Although in professional baseball only four years, Stratton had been the mainstay of the White Sox pitching staff two seasons. He won 15 games last year despite a month's absence with an arm injury.

The accident was a shock to White Sox officials who had counted on Stratton for the 1939 American league race.

Yucca of Newport Sails to Victory Off San Pedro

SAN PEDRO. (AP)—Women had the first word in last week-end's yacht racing when Peggy Slater and a feminine crew sailed the Seventh Heaven to victory in the Pacific Inter-Club class. Miss Slater's closest rival was Walter Fleitz's favored sloop Challenge, of San Pedro.

William Bartholomae's Yucca, Newport, won the Santa Maria trophy for eight-meter yachts. Robert Ziegler's Win Blue, Long Beach, captured first honors in the star class series.

DONS BEGIN CAGE DRILL

With their football togs checked in, Santa Ana Jaycees' Dons today turned to basketball, with their first drill slated for the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium this afternoon.

The Dons will be coached this season by Bill Cook, head football mentor, who formerly taught basketball at Santa Ana High school. Cook said tentative games with Compton, Dec. 9 and 10, have been canceled, but that a heavy schedule of practice games would be arranged.

A trip to Arizona to play the university freshmen has been proposed for the Christmas holidays, but Cook said nothing definite has been decided.

The Dons will enter the annual Eastern conference tournament at Ontario before plunging into their regular schedule in January.

Among the football men scheduled to report for basketball are "Cy" Leivermann, Art Heinisch and Ted DeVelbiss, regulars in the sport last winter. Larry Monroy, ace guard from Tustin's Southern California prep champions, and Rollo Beck, Laguna Beach star.

Ahead of Revolta, however, in the money column was "Slamin' Sam" Sneed of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., who picked up $336.66 by finishing in a tie for third place, thus boosting his year's winnings to the record total of $18,639.46. Revolta's triumph left him in second place in the year's earnings.

SWANSON DEFEATED BAKERSFIELD. (AP)—Ronny Householder defeated Bob Swanson in a nip-and-tuck battle in the 50-lap feature midgut auto race here yesterday, after losing to his rival in the trophy dash. Mel Hansen was third and Karl Young fourth. Motor trouble plagued Sam Hanks and Pat Cunningham.

Coach Elmer Layden announced the following players were making the trip:

Ends—J. Kelly, O'Brien, Brennan, Brown, Kerr, Rassas, Tackles—Beinor, Gallagher, Hollendner, Kell, Harvey, Bechtold, Guards—Capt. McGoldrick, De Franco, P. Kelly, R. Sullivan, Albert, Babinich, Centers—Longhi, McIntyre, Mooney, Quarterbacks—Sitko, Hofer, Crowe, O'Meara, Halfbacks—Saggan, Stevenson, Sheridan, McGannon, Zentini, Morrison, Corgan, Fullbacks—Thesing, Peipul, Tonelli.

Santa Clara put over the first score of the game in the first period when Left Halfback Pelligrini passed from the Titan 35 to Quarterback Ray McCarthy, who scored standing up. The try for point, which wouldn't have been attempted under the Dorais system, failed.

A long, lobbing pass which was blocked into the hands of an eligible receiver by a Santa Clara defensive back gave Detroit its touchdown in the third quarter. Halfback Palumbo standing on his own 31 passed to Schaver, substitute left end. Gilbert of Santa Clara jumped up and knocked the ball into Schaver's hands and the latter ran 30 yards to score. The try for point was good and with it went the ball game to Detroit.

Informed he was reported to have signed with Navy, "Joek" commented: "There's no truth to that report. I have not been in contact directly or indirectly with any other school. As far as I know now, I'll be at Pitt next year."

SPORTS Roundup

By SID FEDER (Pinch-Hitting for Brietz)

NEW YORK. (AP)—If all the red faces and crimped bank rolls were laid end to end, they'd stretch from Durham, N. C., to Rose Bowl, Calif., today. . . . Yes sir, Mr. Wallace Wade's Dukes really have it, in case you haven't heard. . . . Undeclared, untied, unscored upon and unrecognized 'til they put Pitt in mothballs. . . . Also 'pose you noticed Oklahoma didn't mess with the Aggies when their running attack stymied. . . . They just showed they could sail through the air with the greatest of ease, too. . . . Speaking of bowls, Fordham has a good chance for the Sugar tilt after that shellacking of Almy Mammy N. Y. U. (ouch!!)

Dunno if you've heard, but Ceferno Garcia had to take 2 1/2 pounds off in three hours before the weigh-in for the Armstrong fight Friday. . . . Scaled 149 1/2 at 9 a. m. and had a raw-ther warm session in the Turkish baths. . . . The grapevine still reports "Barry" will send Hank Leiber to Brooklyn for Buddy Hassett to cure the Giants' first base blues. . . . The howl is on to give Georgia Pace, classy Cleveland bantam, a crack at Sixto Escobar for the title.

Oklahoma folks are peeved puh-lenty because Sleepy Jim Crowley left the Sooners off his radio list of major league teams. . . . Say Jim should be advised Oklahoma only has a 7000 enrollment, compared to 3000 for Notre Dame, where James was a four-horseman. . . . Moon Mullins, Loyola of New Orleans, goes Bo McMillan one better in that suggestion to have coaches call plays on the field. . . . Why not have the alumni do it, says Moon—their the wolves couldn't howl so much. . . . Good idea at that. . . . Lincoln (Neb.) and San Francisco will be fighting over the National A. A. U. track championships at the Washington convention next week-end.

Larry MacPhail is appealing Judge Landis' decision which kicked the Dodgers out of the Eastern Shore league for three years. . . . Says the Daffiness Boys were innocent victims of any phantangling involved. . . . This town wants college footballers on its police force. . . . Then will sign Sutherland to block out those holdup-ers on end sweeps, no doubt. . . . Wonder how come Mike Jacobs was giving all that $100,000 sellout for Armstrong-Garcia. . . . When he must have suspected it wasn't even going to be close.

Other outstanding contests listed this week are today's South Carolina-Catholic university game at Washington, postponed Saturday because of snow; Miami-Georgia, Friday; Rice-Southern Methodist to wind up the Southwest conference season, and North Carolina State-Citadel in the Southern conference finale.

The next task is the selection of performers for Rose, Cotton, Sugar and "howl" games. . . . The Pacific Coast conference will name its Rose Bowl representative today. That team then must choose its eastern rival.

For that choice it appears difficult now to overlook either Duke or Texas Christian, which completed remarkable seasons last Saturday.

The Blue Devils showed their might by taking over Pittsburgh, 7-0. Texas Christian routed Southern Methodist, 20-7.

Notre Dame, with a definite policy against post-season games, is off the list of "bowl" possibilities. Oklahoma, which rang up its 13th consecutive victory Saturday by whipping Oklahoma A. and M., 19-0, hasn't made known its attitude. Neither has Tennessee, concentrating on the Mississippi game after routing its old hoodoo, Kentucky, 46-0 last Thursday. Georgetown and Western Reserve are being considered as possible rivals for New Mexico in the Sun Bowl.

Other developments of the season's last busy week were:

HOLY CROSS GAINS

The Army-Navy spectacle before 102,000 fans at Philadelphia overshadowed the other doings as Army, outplayed through a large part of the game, crashed in on Huey Long's 79-yard run and a single concerted effort for 81 yards to win, 14-7. Holy Cross, whose only defeat was a one-point loss to Carnegie Tech, gained a lot of prestige through its rout of Boston college. Fordham also added to its laurels with a 25-0 conquest of its nearest rival, New York University. Villanova concluded its undefeated season with a 20-0 victory over Manhattan and Cornell took Ivy league laurels despite a scoreless tie with Pennsylvania.

Tulane moved up to tie Alabama for second place in the Southeastern conference by conquering Louisiana State, 14-0. Mississippi, beaten only once, kept its hopes alive with a 19-6 triumph over Mississippi State while Georgia and Georgia Tech battled to a scoreless tie and Florida surprised with a 9-7 decision over Auburn.

SOUTHWEST

Baylor took over third place in the southwest conference standings as Bullet Billy Patterson led the Bears to a 21-6 triumph over Rice.

Hollywood Eleven Upset by Fresno

FRESNO. (AP)—Fresno's Crusaders defeated the Hollywood Stars in a professional football game here yesterday by booting a 42-yard place kick for the only three points scored during the day. The boot came in the last quarter and was made by Ted Key, former U. C. L. A. footballer.

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK. (AP)—Old Man Piskin, co-starred with Miss Upset in the 1938 football drama, takes a couple of curtain calls this week, although the play itself ended with last Saturday's climatic scene.

The curtain dropped on a cast that had only eight important members whose performances throughout the two-month show was perfect. Duke and Tennessee of the South, Georgetown of the East, Notre Dame and Oklahoma of the Mid-West and Texas Christian of the Southwest were the principal actors who suffered neither a defeat nor a tie. In the main supporting roles were the men Reserve and Texas Tech, both with perfect records. Villanova was tied once but unbeaten.

TEN OTHERS UNBEATEN

Ten other teams had unbeaten, untied seasons, but they took only the walk-on roles in the big show. Two which previously had been tied but undefeated suffered their first defeats during the past week. Utah, Rocky Mountain Big Seven champion, lost, 15-0, to Idaho. The following day, and Boston college took a 29-7 drubbing from Holy Cross Saturday.

The main roles in this week's curtain piece will be played by Notre Dame, Tennessee, Oklahoma and Texas Tech.

The Fighting Irish, after a week off, go west to meet Southern California, co-champion of the Pacific Coast conference and likely choice as Western team to play in the Rose Bowl Jan. 2. Oklahoma, winner of the Big Six title, meets as often-beaten Washington State team at Norman, Okla. Tennessee defends its Southeastern conference crown against Mississippi. The Vols can't be beaten mathematically, but since the title is unofficial, Coach Bob Neyland says he won't claim it unless the Vols beat Ole Miss. Texas Tech, 21-2 winner over Marquette, takes on Centenary.

Other outstanding contests listed this week are today's South Carolina-Catholic university game at Washington, postponed Saturday because of snow; Miami-Georgia, Friday; Rice-Southern Methodist to wind up the Southwest conference season, and North Carolina State-Citadel in the Southern conference finale.

EIGHT MAJOR ELEVEN'S ON PERFECT LIST

Texas Christian Marches On

Texas Christian, one of the greatest football teams in Southwest conference history, marched on to a strong position for a Rose Bowl bid by crushing Southern Methodist, 20 to 7, before 21,000 fans. Above: Earl Clark, Texas Christian halfback, goes over his own right tackle for six yards and a first down in the first quarter. Stopping Clark is Collins, a substitute end. The teams met at Dallas.

TEXAS KINGS PREFER BID TO PASADENA

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Undeclared Texas Christian's footballers, a massive bunch led by a Wild Irish lad of 150 pounds, nursed a case of nerves today and wished the telephone would ring.

Their preference was a long distance call from out Pasadena, Calif., way—and from their attitudes, they would almost "chip in" and pay the tolls if it were a Rose Bowl invitation.

The Southern conference champions who finished their string of 10 straight runaway victories with a 20-7 rout of Southern Methodist Saturday, wasted no words about their hopes.

"Boy, we'd go out to that Rose Bowl right now if it would have us," grinned Robert David O'Brien, midjet star of the team that gained 3360 yards with masterful aerial and ground attacks.

O'Brien, who threw 19 touchdowns and led backfield mates Connie Sparks, Earl Clark and Johnny Hall on running sprees that netted 1933 yards, wants to play just one more game. After that, he'll be a spectator and a geologist, he hopes. No professional football for him.

Only one of the burly band of Christians seemed interested in pro football. He was Ki Aldrich, 198-pound center who rates as the finest pivot man in Southwest conference history.

An invitation to a post-season classic already had been presented to the Christians—from the Cotton Bowl in Dallas.

IOWA OBTAINS NEW COACH

IOWA CITY, Iowa. (AP)—The University of Iowa board of athletics announced today Dr. Edward C. Anderson, former Holy Cross football coach, has signed a three-year contract to guide the Hawkeye football destinies here.

He succeeds Irv Tubbs, formerly Miami university (Fla.) mentor, whose Iowa team won two games in the two years he was at Iowa.

In Saturday's low-ball match play, A. B. Watson and W. C. Pixley, 8 up, and A. W. Robinson and Jack Robertson, 6 up, were the winners.

Freeman Annexes Badminton Title

ALHAMBRA. (AP)—Dave Freeman, young Pasadena tennis star, won the Alhambra Open badminton—won the second annual Alhambra Open championship last night.

Freeman defeated a fellow Pasadenaan, Fred Hinrichs, in the finals, 15-2, 15-2, while Lee Spiny of Santa Barbara was winning the women's title at the expense of Evelyn Bolderick of San Diego.

Brass Bottle Is Caliente Winner

AGUA CALIENTE, Mex. (AP)—Brass Bottle had an easy time winning the mile and a 16th Los Angeles handicap yesterday. Brass Bottle, first out of the starting gate, led all the way. Shortbread was second and Old Maid third. The winner paid $4.20, $2.40 and $2.20.

U. S. C. PLAYS FIFTH TIME AT PASADENA

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Southern California was officially named today to represent the Far West in the Rose Bowl football game Jan. 2.

Hugh C. Willett, president of the Pacific Coast conference, formally announced the result of the vote of the 10 members of the conference. The University of California was the other candidate for the honor.

It will be the fifth trip to the Rose Bowl for the Trojans. They have never been defeated in Pasadena's famed post-season game. S. C. defeated Pittsburgh twice, Penn State and Tulane in its four bowl appearances.

An early announcement was expected on the team—probably Texas Christian, Duke or Tennessee—which will be invited west for the battle.

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Conflicting reports filled the air today that Texas Christian, Duke or Tennessee would get the coveted bid to the Rose Bowl as the Pacific Coast conference prepared to name its own entry in Pasadena's annual post-season gridiron battle.

Southern California's Trojans, unbeaten in three appearances in the Rose Bowl, and California, victorious over Alabama at Pasadena last New Year's day, are tied for the conference championship, each having won six games and lost one—U. S. C. to Washington, California to U. S. C.

MEMBERS VOTE TODAY

The 10 members of the league—U. C. L. A., Washington, Washington State, Oregon, Oregon California and U. S. C.—voted on State, Idaho, Montana, Stanford, the Rose Bowl selection, and sentiment beforehand seemed to favor the Trojans.

The rivalry of the two leaders was sharp, but Southern California's stock rose considerably after its 42-7 triumph over U. C. L. A. last week, while California lost prestige in skinning out a 6-0 decision Nov. 19 over the then much-kicked-around Stanford Eleven.

U. S. C. officials this morning met with stony silence reports that any team had been invited West. For weeks most of the Rose Bowl talk has centered on Texas Christian, and today leaders of the Texas State society here promised that "10,000 Texans" would be on hand if the Horned Frogs from Fort Worth were invited.

Duke's chances soared when the Blue Devils from Durham, N. C., edged out Pitt, 7-9, and kept intact their season's record of never having been scored upon. Tennessee, the last of the untied, undefeated trio most discussed, likewise kept in the running with a thumping 46-0 victory over Kentucky last week.

U. S. C. was certain of one thing this morning prior to the Rose Bowl vote announcement: The lads of Troy face the toughest game of the season next Saturday against the Notre Dame, which is unbeaten, untied and has no post-season ambitions of any kind.

NOTRE DAME NEXT FOR TROJAN ELEVEN

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—Although there are still a couple of important skirmishes left, most Pacific coast football warriors hung up their armor today.

The most important skirmish, of course, will be the Rose Bowl encounter Jan. 2 when the "best" in the coast tackles the "best" from the east.

Everyone has predicted Southern California will get the bid, but California's Golden Bears, last year's conference winners and Bowl representatives, haven't given up hope. The Bears are tied with the Trojans for first place.

Both have lost a game in conference play. The Trojans beat the Bears and the University of Washington Huskies tripped the Trojans.

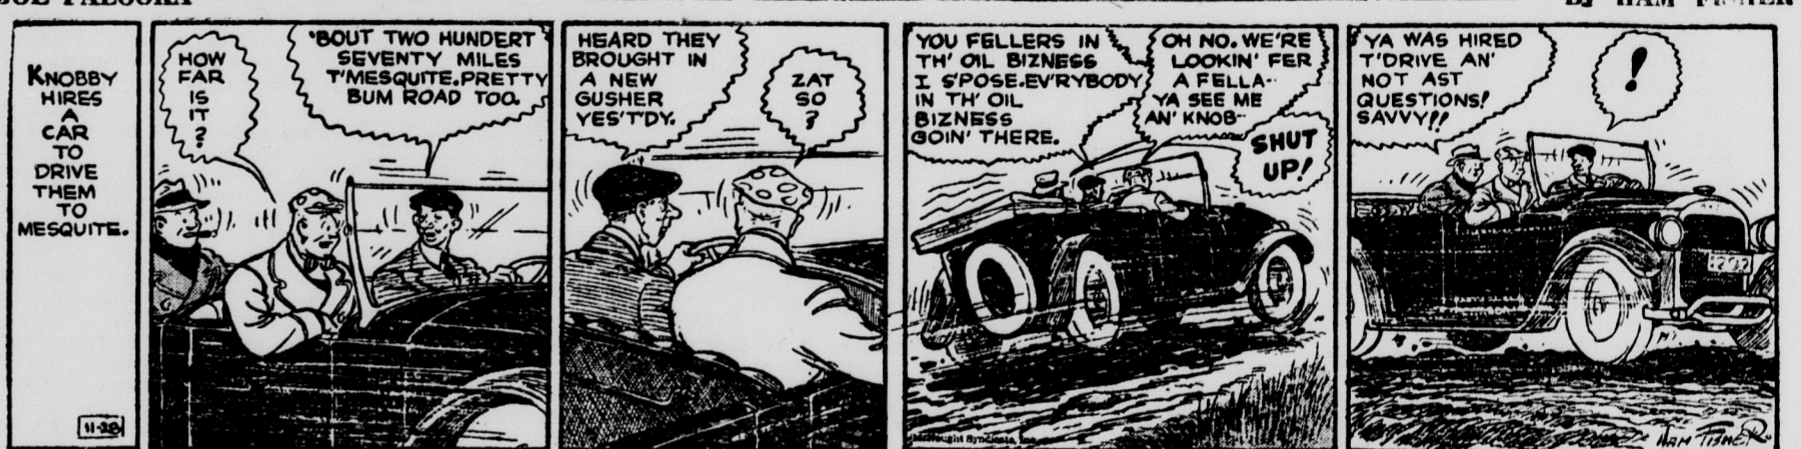

BRUINS PLAY DEC. 10

Next Saturday the Trojans tangle with unbeaten Notre Dame, and Oregon State which dumped Oregon, 14 to 0 Saturday, winds up the conference schedule against U. C. L. A. at Los Angeles Dec. 10

That Open Door

The United States can, if it desires, very easily stir up a war, or at least a bitter enmity, that might last for years, with Japan.

The issue of that war or enmity would be whether a mythical door to China's trade and commerce shall be open or closed.

An ancient treaty says the door shall remain open.

And so, if our state department and secretary of state see fit, the United States may sacrifice its very profitable commerce with Japan by making a stand for certain indefinable rights on the mainland.

If no "stand" is made, that is, if the United States lets things take their natural course in China, the trade of this nation with both Japan and China will grow to much greater proportions, and Japan's all-important "face" will have been saved.

The United States may lose a little "face" in such a proceeding, but the gamble on the other side of the argument is, at worst, a war on foreign soil that might almost never end.

American munitions and materials—bought and paid for, of course—undoubtedly greatly aided the Japanese in their conquest of China.

For this nation to turn around after such a conquest is made and undertake to regulate the fruits of that conquest would certainly seem to anyone but an American state department diplomat to be ridiculous in the extreme.

The conquest of China was not of our making and is not to our liking. But neither have we been elected nor appointed the guardian of the world's peace and morals.

John E. King

California lost a newspaper man of distinction when John E. King, publisher of the Hemet News, passed into the silent halls of memory. A career of more than half a century ended with his death. He leaves a long line of accomplishments, and a clear record of integrity. In the varied positions of trust and responsibility, King acquitted himself with credit to those who placed their faith in him.

At 11 he was a printer's apprentice. In 1888 he established the Larchwood (Iowa) Leader, was owner of important publications in Minnesota, Montana, and California. He was honored by the California Newspaper Publishers' Association with the presidency of that organization, and among the profession regarded as signally able in his forceful editorial declarations.

Politically he affiliated with the Democratic party, served as postmaster at Adrian, Minn., and Hemet, Calif. No civic call remained unheeded. His work on the State Board of Education, State Printer, State Board of Equalization, State Librarian of Minnesota, bank director, one of the founders of the Hemet-San Jacinto famous Ramona Pageant, and in a multitude of other important positions remains as a monument to his public service.

King was a newspaper man who enforced his editorial declarations with personal service when it became necessary for him to do so.

Along the trail of his 68 years he leaves a record of unusual achievement and good deeds. Men like King are too few.

That Midas Touch

Poor old Uncle Sam. Everything he touches turns to gold.

When Europe was at war, even though he sent billions of money and millions of men abroad, gold flowed back and raised the United States hoard to a new all-time high.

And now, with the United States definitely on the sidelines—as far as the recent map-changing argument is concerned—the flood of gold still continues.

Be it war or peace, gold pours in on Uncle Midas in a way that may eventually become terribly annoying, or even dangerous.

During the eight weeks ending October 28 a deluge of gold totaling $1,004,780,188 came flowing into this country. That put this nation's gold holdings at $14,071,098,436—more than any nation ever owned before, and equal to about 60 per cent of all the monetary gold in the world.

The tragic embarrassment that finally came to old King Midas is, in this situation, something to think about.

Extra! Special Extra!

An armistice has been declared in "The War of the Worlds," which, as a radio presentation, terrified thousands of listeners late last month.

The federal communications commission and heads of the broadcasting companies met at Versailles—or, Washington—and agreed to terms that will, it is hoped, stop such frightfulness in the future.

Hereafter radio announcers or actors can't use the old-time newspaper words, "flash" and "bulletin" except in actual news presentations. Or, in rare cases when it is certain that they cannot cause alarm.

"Flash" and "bulletin" are potent words, filled with dramatic meaning. Like guns or poison, they are all right when given their proper usage; terrible when misused.

Incidentally, the actor-producer who caused all the ruckus with his too-realistic description of a fictional scum, won a sponsor for his theretofore sponsorless program right after he hit the front pages of many newspapers with his near-tragic farce. It still does pay to advertise.

Fair Enough

NEW YORK—Some Americans are beginning to ask why the Nazi atrocities should cause any more horror in the civilized nations than was caused by the massacres and deportations of the religious and by the butchering of priests and nuns, the burning of churches and the persecution of Catholics in Spain. The oppression of Catholics in Mexico is cited, too, in the same sense.

In a very way the feeling about the horror in Germany is a compliment to the Germans. They had been regarded as a highly civilized people, and the regime which is doing all this constantly boasts of its civilization.

MASSIVE IGNORANT
Russia, on the other hand, was a very backward nation from which the rest of the world expected nothing better. The masses were beastly ignorant and verminous, and it cannot be forgotten that the revolution and the program of atrocity came abruptly after Russian soldiers had been sent into battle without bullets for their rifles against well-armed German troops.

They had been sold out by conscienceless traitors and naturally were furious, but of first importance is the fact that they were a low-grade people. The Germans, in their superiority, regarded them as cattle.

In Spain the people were ignorant, too, but they were not so stupid. For one, the masses, to quote an eminent Catholic publicist, had been driven to apostasy by poverty, destitution and injustice and had grown to hate the church because they hated the friends of the church who exploited them and whom the church did nothing to rebuke or correct. Moreover, the civil war in Spain was promoted and backed by fascist Italy and Nazi Germany.

JUST AS HORRIBLE
There were atrocities just as horrible on the rebel side, and anyway, this was a war in hot blood between two armed factions which, being a civil war, inevitably produced appalling inhumanity on both sides.

In Germany the people are intelligent, the standard of living is high and there is no excuse of hot blood. Yet the Germans have carried on these ferocious activities for years and now have come to the point of threatening to extinguish 700,000 people "by fire and sword," in cold blood. That sounds like darkest Russia or Turkey.

Our communists, of course, will deny that there were ever any massacres or other atrocities in Russia and will argue that the confiscation of property and the imprisonment, degradation and deportation of those who owned it was a work of nobility on the ground that the property belonged to the people and was then devoted to their uses.

MORE SHOCKING
The Russian atrocities also were carried out in cold blood, but the Germans professed to be aghast at such conduct and have held themselves to be better people than the Bolsheviks. Americans gave them credit for that, too. There is no possibility that the German nation which is doing all these things is far superior in intellect and discipline to the Russians, Spaniards and Mexicans in the mass.

That is why the Nazi atrocities are so much more shocking, although, for the sake of consistency, it should be said that this country did register a distinct shock at so much of the Russian atrocities as the correspondents were able to observe or learn of and send out. Aside from the moral courage, in addition thereto, it must be kept in mind that Nazi Germany and Italy have tentatively ganged up with Japan and have turned on the heat against the United States. They may not mean business, but this country doesn't understand that kind of kidding.

WRONG PLACE
An assistant in the post office was trying to explain something to a lady when a red-faced man dashed in and demanded a stamp. The assistant looked at him, then continued with the lady.

"I say," the man shouted, "I've a train to catch!"

The clerk turned to him and said quietly, "Did you say you had a train to catch?"

"I did," came the reply.

"Well," the clerk continued, "it's a railway station you want, not a post office."—Montreal Star.

Twenty-Five The Merry-Go-Round Years' Ago

NOV. 28, 1913
Glenn L. Martin, the Santa Ana aviator, won more fame Wednesday afternoon when on a flight from Los Angeles to Santa Ana, to take Thanksgiving dinner with his mother and father, he made a new American altitude record with a passenger. He attained a height of 9800 feet. The former record was 1060 feet. The trip was to Long Beach.

A pick-up team of football players from the local Athletic club yesterday showed that it is entitled to recognition as a team of some caliber, for it defeated the eleven from Company F of Los Angeles with ease. The score was 13 to 10.

The John T. Carpenter Water company, the Serrano Water company and the Irvine company have men at work in Santiago canyon, above the Orange County park, preparing land for conserving the storm waters of Santiago creek.

Science News

By EMILY C. DAVIS
Science Service Writer
Scientists are still on the trail of that lost host: the man who ate the first oyster.

It was Dean Swift who called attention to this adventurer in the pithy remark, "He was a bold man that first ate an oyster." But Dean Swift, with his eighteenth century grammar and his eighteenth century knowledge of prehistoric man, could never have suspected how far back in time his light quip would be pursued, in search of the missing pioneer.

Prehistorians in their studies of man's rise to civilization have trailed the oyster-eating custom back through the Neolithic, or New Stone Age. They find great mounds of shells at Neolithic settlements to prove that oyster eating was an old story then. They have also found evidence that mankind ate oysters in the preceding period called the Mesolithic, or Middle Stone Age. That establishes the oyster as a human food no less than 15,000 years ago. But what about the Old Stone Age before that? Somewhere in those thousands of years of slow pioneering, the great oyster experiment took place. Unfortunately, Old Stone Age sites are not numerous, and those known are chiefly inland.

Discoveries may reveal earlier and earlier oyster eaters. But the first man to eat an oyster will have to be pursued all the way back to the early days of wild mankind, if the theory of Prof. Thomas Cherry is correct. He once advanced the idea that early man left the forest and his ape friends for the seashore, and lived there for some time. Shellfish were abundant and filling and easy to catch. Monkeys have been known to eat oysters at the shore, so it would require no great wit to open the shells.

So—if Prof. Cherry is right, and if the early seafood eaters happened to be in an oyster neighborhood, why, then, the bold attack on an oyster may have happened almost a million years ago. (Copyright, 1938, by Science Service)

WASHINGTON—Attorney General Homer Cummings may be the lawyer sent to Paris by Dorothy Thompson's committee to defend Herschel Grynszpan, the 17-year-old refugee who murdered Ernst vom Rath, German embassy official.

Cummings retires from the cabinet in January. A number of his friends have urged his selection as a fitting tribute to his long career as champion of civil and religious liberty.

Cummings first attracted public attention as a young district attorney in Connecticut, when he reopened the case of a young Jew accused of killing a priest and sensationally revealed the man's innocence. Known as the Isaacs case, it is one of the most famous in the annals of American jurisprudence.

When Mayor LaGuardia assigned Jewish cops to guard the German consulate in New York, German Ambassador Dieckhoff, now recalled from Washington, laughed heartily.

"In times of tension like this," he said, "we should have something to laugh about."

Note—Dieckhoff is not a member of the Nazi party.

CAPITAL CHAFF
Diplomats are wondering whether the new rapprochement of the British royal family may not mean the appointment of "Little Eddie," the Duke of Windsor, as ambassador to Berlin. The ex-king has long been a warm admirer of Hitler, and Chamberlain is leaving nothing undone to woo Hitler's good will.

In establishing group health units, the government requires a minimum of nine months membership to qualify for treatment. Too many expectant mothers try to join a day or two before they go to the hospital. . . . Shortly before the Munich sellout, the Czech legation in Washington was infested by termites. . . . Confronting with Roosevelt, Oklahoma's red-headed Gov. Leon Phillips made no secret of his opinion of the crop-control act. "It's no good, Mr. President," he said bluntly, "and you had better lose it now chucking it." . . . Frank E. Vanderhoof, of Greenwich, Conn., who claims he is the "father of the (defunct) NRA," is writing a book to prove it. . . . Dan Moore, 30-year-old Ohio securities commissioner, will be made head of a new branch office the SEC will open shortly in Cleveland. The agency will rank next to the New York branch and will have jurisdiction over Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, and Kentucky.

WAR IN THE AIRMAIL
A stormy undercover feud has developed in the civil aeronautics authority between Chairman Edward J. Noble and the trial examiners he inherited from the interstate commerce commission.

Noble is hopping mad over the datory manner in which the examiners have conducted hearings of airline applications for route certificates under the new act. The examiners, in turn, are peeved at Noble for "riding" them.

Reclamations have been heard since Noble, his patience exhausted, curtly ordered the examiners to snap up hearings so action could be started on the important work of adjusting airline rates. Recently, when another CAA official complained about the delay, Noble threw up his hands in despair.

"What can I do?" he said. "Those fellows were wished on us by the ICC and it looks like we're stuck with them."

Note—Under the aeronautics act, the trial examiners were transferred to the civil aeronautics authority from the ICC's bureau of airmail without permanent status. Noble can shift them to other jobs, change their pay, or get rid of them entirely when the fiscal year ends next July.

SCRAPPY JASPERS
Jasper, Ala., home town of Speaker William Bankhead and his brother, Sen. John Bankhead, is facing an unexpected problem as the result of the construction of a community center by PWA.

Until the erection of the building there was no large hall in town and social gatherings, limited in size, were quiet and orderly. But dances staged in the new auditorium, capable of holding 1000 people, have been marred by fist fights and disorders.

Town leaders were puzzled because Jasper folks ordinarily are not belligerent. Finally they hit on this explanation: Before the new hall was built, social affairs were small and those who attended knew each other. The new auditorium brings strangers together and hostilities break out.

Jasper officials are considering a town-wide recreation program to induce broader acquaintance, in the hope of promoting amity at affairs in the community center.

BRIGHT MOMENTS
Napoleon Bonaparte had just created Madame de Montmorency as a countess, and the woman was in tears. She entreated Napoleon to make her, instead, a baroness.

Napoleon stood it for some time, then making allusion to certain escapades in her youth said: "You are not a good enough Christian for me to listen favorably to your claim."

DOUBLE TROUBLE
Their hostess was without a maid for the time being, so when dinner was over, the guests all decided to lend a helping hand by removing the dishes to the kitchen.

The hostess gave a horrified scream as she saw them stacking the plates. "Oh, why did you do that?" she wailed. "Now I'll have to wash the bottoms!"

NO SALE
Business Man: "Well, if it isn't John Corcoran, the man I met up in Maine one rainy night six years ago at the Moose River Junction railway station!"

Salesman: "Good-by, sir."

Business Man: "Aren't you going to try and sell me something?"

Salesman: "No, I sell memory training courses."—Montreal Star.

OTHER WAS FRIENDLY
Early last week a gorgeously uniformed colonel or major of ushers got into an elevator in the Music Hall and was greeted with an austere "Good morning."

The operator looked sulky. "You already said 'Good morning,'" he pointed out.

"I know," said the other. "but this is official."—New Yorker.

DITTY TO THE SMUDGE POTS

To the Editor:
Sing a song of smudge pots
Sending forth their grime,
To help our California
Maintain her Sunny Clime.

Hear them clink and clatter
When the mercury goes down;
Hear the crude oil spatter
And the oil trucks roar through town.

Through the valleys, on the hill sides,
From the mountains to the shores;
Valiantly they smoke and sputter
Warming up the "out of doors."

Listen when the siren screams
The warning of the frost;
Get out your stubby pencil
And figure up the cost.

Of pots and oil and labor
To save our southern crops.
Think also of the neighbor
Who must use the brooms and mops.

To clean this black and greasy world
And make it fit to wear
The name of "California,
The land of Sunshine Fair."

But the oranges will ripen,
In just a little while;
We'll drop the ice cubes in the glass
And smack our lips and smile.

So sing a song of smudge pots,
Those trusty little stoves!
They make a lot of dirty work,
But they save the citrus groves.

What Other Editors Say:

THE HEALTH PLAN

With a view to heading off, if possible, socialized medical and hospital care by the state and also of meeting the federal government's move against the so-called medical trust, the council of the California Medical association is planning a system for adoption and execution by the general association.

It provides for care and hospital service on monthly payments and will be buttressed upon a form of insurance that will make it easy and cheaper for that class of citizens which is not able to stand expensive hospitalization under physician's care. Taking time by the forelock in such a venture marks an advanced step by the medical profession. It is intended to effectuate greater health in the state at a minimum cost.

The medical association has long anticipated the growing demand of state medicine and hospitalization. Opposition to it is not only in California but elsewhere in the nation has not been successful in halting the movement. And since it is apparent such socialization is coming, the medical men here and in other states have been trying to work out a system that will meet the public demands and that will furnish, possibly, a basis for a national plan. Whether this can be done remains to be seen.

The medical association of the state must be given credit for the movement started in good faith. It is in the right direction.—Hanford Sentinel.

A SMALL MATTER

Once, on a hunting expedition, Nouschirvan, King of Persia, desired to eat some venison in the field, and sent his attendants to a nearby village to procure some salt for seasoning.

Something made Nouschirvan suspect that they had obtained the salt without making recompense, and he immediately proceeded to verify his suspicion.

"Go to the village at once and pay!" he ordered sternly. "This is a small matter in itself, but a great one as it regards me; for a king ought ever to be just, because he is an example to his subjects. If I cannot make all my people just in the smallest things I can at least show them it is possible to be so."—Christian Science Monitor.

IDENTIFICATION

"Do you know Mrs. Smith's house?" said the stranger to the butcher's boy.

"Let me see," said the lad. "Taint pork and fat—that's No. 3—and it ain't two pounds of steak and juicy—that's No. 7. I know—it's topside and tender, and don't pay. No. 5, that's it ma'am."—Montreal Star.

I'LL TELL YOU ----

BY BOB BURNS

The Chamber of Commerce out here says that Los Angeles is doing more building than any city in the world. I understand New York is doing some building itself, but it shows up better out here because we're building towards San Francisco, Salt Lake and San Diego while New York is going straight up.

The other day a fellow was lookin' for a friend of his in New York City and he went to the seventh floor of the apartment building where his friend used to live and finally he found a lady on that floor who remembered his friend. The lady said, "Yes, he used to live here, but I think he's moved out of this neighborhood. I think you'll probably find him on the 47th floor!"

Would you like to know two rules that were mainly responsible for turning a poor boy into a millionaire? That boy, now a man, gave them to me.

He is Alfred E. Lyon, and you can find him in the offices of the Phillip Morris company on the third floor at 119 Fifth avenue, New York City.

Here are his two rules:
1. When you are given a job to do, do it a little better than anyone else can possibly do it.
2. Do a little more than is expected of you.

Simple? Of course they are! That's the reason they work so well and you can apply them, and follow them, without spending one cent.

In 1912 Alfred E. Lyon boarded a train in Canada to look for a job in New York City. He had never been in New York before. He knew absolutely no one in that big, lonely city.

When he arrived at the Grand Central Station, he walked out on Forty-second street not knowing which way to turn. He knew only that he was going to get a job! He turned west, crossed Fifth avenue, and continued west. Presently he was on Sixth avenue.

"I'm going to start in here," he said, stopping before a store which sold cigarettes. He walked in, and inquired where the cigarettes were manufactured. The clerk told him in San Francisco.

Then he asked if there wasn't some sort of a branch office in New York. The clerk said there was and gave him the address.

He went to the number and asked for the head of the firm. At last he was admitted and told the man he wanted a job as salesman.

"I'm sorry," the man said, "we have no opening."

The boy was flabbergasted. But not for long. He did some quick thinking and said:

"Are you selling all the cigarettes you want to?"

The man, a bit startled, leaned forward, and said:

"No, we're not. And you're hired. When do you want to start?"

"Now,"

And he did.

He arrived in New York and got a job within an hour.

He followed the two rules which became his life rules. He was the first one in the office in the morning, the last to leave. When there was a hard job to do, and no one wanted to do it, he asked for it. He got it. He did it.

He is now vice president.

Last year, when most companies were having a hard battle to break even, his company increased its sales 45%.

He asked him if his two rules would work today as they did when he started out, and he said, "Yes, they will. In fact there are more opportunities today than when I got my first job."

Adopt Mr. Lyon's two rules for success. You have just as much to start with as he did even though you have nothing at all. Apply his two rules and see what happens.

Herbert Lewis Davis, attorney with offices in the Woodward building, Washington, D. C., sends me what I consider the best motto of the month. Here it is:

"Praise loudly and blame softly."

Do you often see more real help put into five words?

Remarkable Remarks

I take off your hat to you.—H. C. Wells, writing to the mayor of Cambridge, Mass., to admit he had taken the mayor's hat home with him to England, liked it and meant to keep it.

Too many people die 20 years before they are buried.—William Lyon Phelps, professor emeritus of Yale University.

The beaver works about two months a year and spends the rest of it having a grand time.—Dan McDonald, naturalist, Toronto.

Maybe, if there is a Europe left to go to.

Molly Picon, actress, when asked if she would return to Europe again next year.

I was raised on milk but I eat meat now.—Eddie Collins, movie actor, when he was asked to play a part with a 400-pound milk fed lion.
